—Policy On Recruits Unaltered—

ARMY NIXES TRAVEL BAN

Washington (UPI) — The Army Friday night overruled two of its area headquarters which had attempted to ban or restrict air travel by recruits because of the crash that killed 74 soldiers in Richmond, Va., Wednesday night.

Earlier in the day, 2nd Army Headquarters at Fort Mead, Md., banned air transport for recruits and 1st Army Headquarters on Governor's Island in New York cancelled plans for use of non-scheduled airliners such as the Imperial Airlines plane in the Richmond accident.

"There has been no change in Army policy regarding the transport of American military personnel from reception to induction centers. This policy permits the use only of commercial planes that are certified by the Federal Aviation Agency."

In response to a question, a spokesman said this statement reinstated non-scheduled airlines any place where they had been ruled out since the non-scheduled carriers as well as scheduled airlines are certified by the FAA.

In effect, the spokesman said, the Army was returning to the policy in force before the Richmond crash.

He said 2nd Army Headquarters at Fort Mead had lifted its ban on air travel shortly before the general policy statement was issued.

Soft Life Creating Soft Men

... DOCTOR SAYS

Atlantic City, N.J. (AP)—Portrait of the human being of the future:

A soft, shapeless glob of protoplasm which smells like a pansy and will have a coronary thrombosis if he so much as winds up the window on his car.

Well, maybe not. But that would be a logical development of the present distaste of American society for any physical activity, Dr. E. DeAlton Partridge suggested Friday.

Evolution Comical

"The evolution of the human being in modern society is comical if it were not so tragic," Dr. Partridge, president of Montclair State College, said at a meeting of the New Jersey Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

"It is now even unsocial to smell as though one had been at work," he said.

As another example, caddies and golf carts have taken all the exercise out of golf except swinging the clubs, Dr. Partridge said.

From Clubhouse

"The only logical development in the future will be a device that will drive the ball down the fairway mechanically. The next step from that is to sit in the clubhouse before a television set, push buttons and watch the ball go around the 18-hole course entirely by remote control."

The educator said, "it is entirely possible that man's own progress along the gadget road will in the end defeat him as an organism."

Dr. Patridge called for a pattern of life which will encourage the "basic rhythms" of the human body and give exercise to people of all ages.

Year's Moratorium On Cold War Urged In U.N.

... Nehru Gets Ovation; Calls A-Tests 'Basically Evil'

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India proposed Friday that the United Nations declare a moratorium on the cold war and set aside a year for co-operation in all fields—"political, cultural or whatever."

The Indian statesman made the suggestion in a wide-ranging speech to the U.N. General Assembly. He came to New York after talks with President Kennedy in Washington on critical international issues.

He called upon world statesmen to devote their full strength to trying to avoid the terror of nuclear disaster instead of thinking about "burrowing under the earth and living like rats in a hole."

On the specific issue of banning nuclear weapons tests, he said a treaty providing effective controls is necessary—an issue upon which he and President Kennedy had previously announced agreement.

Voluntary Plan Won't Work

He noted that the Assembly had approved a voluntary moratorium, but added "no one imagines that a voluntary moratorium is going to solve this question."

He said his reaction to nuclear tests were strong—"I think that they are basically evil."

He was given a rising ovation when he came into the big blue and gold Assembly hall. He wore a white cap, a brown coat with the traditional red rose in a buttonhole, and white tight-fitting trousers.

Adlai Listens Closely

General reaction to the 37-minute speech was favorable, but some delegates said they had hoped for more concrete proposals. Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U.S. delegate who listened closely as Nehru spoke, commented that the idea for a co-operative year was a good one, but not new. He said the United States has been co-operating with other nations for years.

Nehru asserted that little was being said in the world about co-operation, "but much is said about conflict."

He recalled that the United Nations succeeded in setting aside a geophysical year devoted to science.

"It might now decide," he added, "to devote a year not to speeches about peace, but to furtherance of co-operative activities in any field—political, cultural or whatever."

He said there are "thousands of fields" for such activities. He suggested that the assembly might consider establishing a special committee to come up with concrete proposals on how the special year might be established.

Nehru declared the future of the United Nations is closely associated with the outcome of its operation in the Congo. "The Congo has become a symbol, a touchstone of success," he said. He expressed confidence that the crisis over Berlin and Germany can be settled "without bringing discredit or dishonor to any nation."

He summed up by saying, "I am no man of wisdom, but merely a man who has dabbled in public affairs for half a century, and learned how often very wise men behave in a very foolish manner."

Administration Warily Scrutinizes Red Shift

... EXAMINES NEWS DISPATCHES

Washington (AP) — The Kennedy administration warily scrutinized Friday what Moscow dispatches described as new Soviet proposals on Berlin and Germany.

The news dispatches were the only basis for examination by State Department specialists. It was understood that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow had not been approached no any Soviet proposals—new or otherwise.

Sir David Ormsby Gore, the British envoy to Washington, said he found nothing in diplomatic dispatches to confirm the Moscow report.

News reports listed 4 points as the heart of the Kremlin's thinking on how to end the present stalemate on Berlin. They were, briefly:

1. A 4-power agreement on a "new status" for West Berlin, guaranteeing the freedom of its inhabitants and free communication between West Berlin and West Germany.

2. East German pledge to the Soviet Union to respect West Berlin's new status.

3. Western—including West German — recognition of East German sovereignty, and

4. A peace treaty either with both Germanies, or one between the Soviet and East Germany, to be concluded only after an east-west agreement on the previous three points.

An Associated Press story from Moscow Friday said these proposals were dramatically leaked to correspondents in the early hours Friday morning.

U.S. officials are anxious to find out what prompted Moscow reporters to describe the proposals as representing a retreat, a significant departure from previous Russian thinking, or a concession.

The proposals, the more or less unanimous belief here is, represent none of these things. All these points, perhaps in a less organized way, were brought up in the talks Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko had with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in New York earlier this fall and at a White House meeting with President Kennedy.

Some authoritative sources in Washington suspected the development was a trial balloon, a planted story. Others spoke about possible efforts to obscure the real problem: what to negotiate about.

The "new" Soviet proposals, these sources said, left unanswered the question of how "free" Moscow thinks West Berlin should be, and especially what the guarantees of this freedom would be.

The significance of the proposals is in providing new evidence that Premier Khrushchev is willing to negotiate on Berlin instead of letting things get out of hand in demonstrations of force at the wall dividing the city, as happened last month.

Plan Assessed As 'Serious Approach'

. . . BY WESTERN DIPLOMATS

Moscow (AP)—Western diplomats Friday assessed the new Soviet proposals to work for a satisfactory 4-power Berlin solution as "probably a serious approach."

But they had serious reservations and were agreed deep probing is necessary about just what Soviet intentions are.

Among other things, these sources expressed fear the suggestions — dramatically leaked in the early hours of Friday morning — might be meant to divert attention from the current explosive situation in Berlin or to stir up public pressure to push the unready Western powers to the negotiating table.

First Indication

In general, however, they saw the move as the first major indication of Soviet intention to make it easier to find a Berlin settlement.

Briefly, authoritative sources said the Soviet Union has let Britain, France, West Germany and the United States know that it is prepared to make a new agreement on the status of West Berlin. When the Western allies are satisfied that their rights of access and the liberties of West Berlin are guaranteed, they would make some sort of declaration respecting the "sovereignty" of East Germany. The Russians consider it essential that West Germany be bound by such a declaration.

No such proposals have been made directly to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, to Britain's Sir Frank Roberts or Maurice DeJean of France. Neither is West German Ambassador Hans Kroll involved.

Last Veterans Day In Office For Eby

Louis R. Eby of Lincoln will celebrate his last Veteran's day as director of veteran's affairs Saturday.

Eby has announced that he will retire on his 70th birthday, December 24. He has headed the Nebraska Department of Veteran's Affairs since it was created in 1947.

He is probably the best known veteran in the state. He joined the army in September 1917 as a buck private. He fought overseas, taking part in the battles of St. Mihiel and Meuse Argonne, and was commissioned overseas as a second lieutenant.

In 1920, Eby organized the third company of the National Guard to be set up in Nebraska—Company F of the 134th Infantry Division. He was major of this company when he was discharged in 1941 for physical disabilities.

When the Department of Veteran's Affairs was set up by the legislature in 1947, both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars recommended Eby as its director. Eby is a member of both groups.

In 1959, when the late Gov. Ralph G. Brooks asked Eby to resign, veterans showed their satisfaction with him. Both the American Legion and the VFW insisted that Eby keep the post, and the governor gave in to their demands.

Eby's main duties consist of helping veterans take advantage of U.S. and state veterans' benefits. All benefits must be applied for, and

Yugoslavs Happy: No Gun Fights

By WOODY HOWE
Star Staff Writer

Six touring Yugoslav agriculture officials were happy with at least one thing they discovered after 3 days in Lincoln: they saw no cowboys killing each other.

"Your films really give a very slanted view of America, you know," said Stjepan Matota. "It looks much better than in the pictures."

The visitors admitted it was difficult for an Eastern European to imagine "what America is really like." They said they had found in the first week of a 6-week tour, they were given "a very friendly welcome by everybody."

The group has been in Lincoln since Wednesday, touring the animal husbandry and veterinary departments at the Agriculture College.

Saturday they leave for Iowa State University at Ames, then go to the University of Illinois, and finally to the University of North Carolina.

The tour is sponsored jointly by the International Cooperation Administration, the Department of Agriculture and the Association of Land-Grant Colleges.

Tour leader James X. King said, "We don't preach to them, and no mention is ever made of politics."

They admitted one small disappointment. Vladimir Vrecko said he expected to see much larger farms and more centralized butchering operations.

"We thought the trend here was toward large, economically-cooperative farms," he confessed.

More Pleasant Weather Likely

Nebraska will get another day of pleasant weather Saturday.

The state should be fair and mild with highs in the 60s, forecasters say.

Friday's state high was 67 at Valparaiso. Lincoln had a high of 62, a low of 36.

Denney Asks Support In Bid For GOP Post

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Robert Denney, 45-year-old Fairbury attorney, has sent letters to all 86 members of the Republican state central committee asking their support for the post of state chairman.

Denney is regarded as the likely successor to Charles Thone of Lincoln, who is resigning to seek his party's gubernatorial nomination.

The central committee will meet in Lincoln Nov. 25 to name a new chairman.

Will Work

Denney told committee members that he would work tirelessly as chairman to get out the vote in next May's primary.

A heavy vote, he suggested, would assure nomination of the best possible qualified candidates.

Denney pointed to Republican activities of his family, and his own long party service. He is Jefferson County chairman and a member of the state executive committee.

ROBERT DENNEY

He headed the 1960 GOP state convention's platform committee.

Denney has practiced law in Jefferson County since 1939 with the exception of 3 years military service and a year with the FBI.

Vietnamese To Get U.S. Air Instructors

... AND SOME BOMBERS

Washington (UPI) —The government has ordered 200 Air Force instructors and a small number of B26 bombers to South Viet Nam to speed strengthening of Vietnamese airmen in the face of mounting Communist-led guerrilla attacks, informed sources said Friday night.

The steps were taken pending final decisions by President Kennedy on proposals submitted by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to bolster the forces of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem.

There also were reports that equipment now entering South Viet Nam included army helicopters. The army has been experimenting for several years with helicopters that could launch small rockets in support of infantry.

Under Study

Taylor, Kennedy's special military adviser, recently returned from an inspection trip to Viet Nam. He has submitted his recommendations and the President said at a Wednesday news conference that they were under study.

Taylor is understood to have recommended against sending any large number of U.S. troops to the Southeast Asian country at this time.

Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told the President during his visit that ended Friday that the communists would make propaganda hay out of any return of white troops to Viet Nam, a former French colony.

Played Down

The Defense Department sought to play down any suggestion that big supply operations were now being carried out by the Air Force in Viet Nam.

"We frequently fly equipment into Viet Nam when necessary as part of our regular military assistance program to train certain Vietnamese in the United States and to assist in training in south Viet Nam. This has been going on for years."

Nevertheless, authorities indicated there had been some speed-up in normal supply operations. They said about 200 Air Force instructors were being added to the present 700-man U.S. military group now in Viet Nam.

Limited Number

The Pentagon said officially that a "limited number of personnel" were going to the country "in support of the regular military assistance program for South Viet Nam."

The U.S. program includes a contingent of anti-guerrilla instructors. They train South Vietnamese in combatting Red guerrillas. They also engage in various civic programs from helping with crop planting to public works as part of an effort to weed out causes of unrest.

Woman Victim Of Auto Crash

The death of Mammie C. Carstens, 77, of Hay Springs as the result of an auto accident Oct. 21 was reported Friday by the Safety Patrol.

The Patrol said Mrs. Carstens was a passenger in a car driven by Henry W. Carstens, 78. The car went off a county road 4.3 miles west of Hay Springs, in Dawes County, and struck a culvert.

The death was the 283rd in Nebraska traffic this year, compared with 247 at this time in 1960.

Rob Frisco Bank Of $62,000 In 14-Hour Job

FANTASTIC VENTURE IS SUCCESS

San Francisco (AP)—Three gunmen robbed a branch of the Bank of America Friday of $62,693 in a 14-hour operation that involved kidnaping two bank officials and holding them and their families prisoners all night.

The trio, one disguised as a red-haired woman, cleaned out the Union and Webster branch of the world's largest privately-owned bank. The bank had to bring in more money before it could open.

The fantastic venture involved forays 15 miles north and south of the city's famed Golden Gate—during which one hostage had to pay the bridge fare.

Between 7 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. Friday:

Managers Abducted

The trio kidnaped branch Manager Joseph Finocchio, 55, and Assistant Manager Henry Lupori at their homes 3 miles apart.

They herded both, together with their wives and 3 children into one home.

They kept them under guard all night, once poking a gun against the branch manager's throat and threatening to kill him.

While one man guarded the others, two gunmen made the assistant manager go with them and open the bank.

They forced Lupori and two girl tellers to clean out the vault, then tied them up, rejoined the house guard and fled.

700 Branches

It was the largest such holdup ever for the Bank of America which has more than 700 branches and total resources of around $11 billion.

"The one that was dressed like a lady had pedal pushers and a green sweater," said Bobby Lupori, 13-year-old son of the abducted assistant manager.

"She had hair on her chest and a tattoo on her arm and she was no lady."

One victim called the gunmen polite. Another said they looked "like 3 good looking college boys."

They first appeared at the home of Finocchio, at Greenbrae, 15 miles north of San Francisco's Golden Gate.

While one gunman stood guard over Finocchio's wife and daughter, the other two forced him to drive to Millbrae, 15 miles south of San Francisco. There they got Lupori, his wife and two sons and all drove in two cars back to Finocchio's where they spent the night.

Other new officers are Alvin Brown, Kearney, vice president, and Larry Jones, Lincoln, treasurer.

Mrs. Leonard Pegler, Norfolk, was revealed as Mrs. Nebraska Motor Carrier for 1961.

Sal Mineo Is Fined For Speeding; Quickly Nabbed Second Time

New York (UPI) — Film star Sal Mineo was fined $50 Friday for driving 54 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone on the Henry Hudson Parkway. He pleaded innocent to a charge of driving 53 miles an hour on the same parkway 5 minutes after the first arrest.

Mineo pleaded guilty in Manhattan Traffic court to the first charge of speeding last June 1. He then pleaded not guilty to the second charge.

Trial on the second charge was set in Bronx County Court for next Jan. 16. If he is found guilty on this charge, Mineo's driving license will be automatically revoked because it will be his third speeding conviction. He was fined in October 1960, on a speeding charge.

Caroline's Hamsters Deceased

Washington (AP) — Caroline Kennedy's hamster pets "Debbie" and "Billy" are dead.

The White House made no official announcement. The news Friday just came out of a routine inquiry about Kennedy pets.

"They're deceased," was the only report.

"When? And what happened?"

The White House preferred to stand on its two-word statement. In fact, those questioned weren't sure Caroline had been told.

Would the pair be buried on the White House grounds along with young David Eisenhower's pet parakeet "Gabby"?

"Probably not," said a White House informant, but nobody who really knew could be located immediately.

Debbie and Billy, despite their unhearalded demise, were quite famous in their way. On one occasion they escaped from their cages and enjoyed a weekend of undetected freedom in the White House. One even turned up in the President's bathtub.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, who coped at his news conferences with numerous humorous inquiries about their exploits, even described the two as "extremely intelligent hamsters."

The animals had gone to the White House as a gift to Caroline.

Also on the pet front, the White House reports that the ducks and goldfish that use the fountain on the south lawn are being packed off to winter quarters. "It's getting too cold for them out in the open now and they'll go back to the National Park Service, whence they came, until warm weather returns.

Bronte Story Depicted In 'Moor Born'

"Moor Born," a play about the bleak, tragic and strangely beautiful lives of the 3 famous Bronte sisters, was presented Friday evening at Lincoln Northeast High School auditorium.

About 150 persons attended the initial performance of the all-school play directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Reeder. The second and final performance will be given this evening.

Janice Woelfle, Billene Zinsmaster and Dorothy Peterson portray Charlotte, Emily and Anne Bronte respectively.

Branwell Bronte, their brother, is portrayed by Bruce Borin.

The stage setting pictured the Bronte home and reflcted the gloom of the surrounding moors.

The Lincoln Northeast High School orchestra, under the direction of Duane Schultz, performed before the play and between acts.

Two old campaigners, Dwight Eisenhower and Harry Truman, shake hands in lobby of Truman Library in Independence, Mo.

Hatchet Is Buried By Truman And Ike

Independence, Mo. (AP) — A long period of coolness between Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower ended Friday as the former presidents met, shook hands cordially and conferred in private for about 15 minutes.

Their meeting, unannounced in advance, was the first time either one had called on the other since Eisenhower's inauguration in January, 1953. They had kept their distance since then, except for a brief handshake at the funeral of Gen. George Marshall two years ago and a brief meeting at Chief Justice Fred Vinson's funeral in 1953.

Cordial Welcome

"Come in, come in," Truman said, with a smile, as they shook hands.

"It's good to see you again," Eisenhower replied.

After their private conference, Truman and Eisenhower, walking side by side, made a tour of the library with its White House mementoes.

Truman was asked if Eisenhower should sign the guest register.

"Definitely," Truman quipped. "Then if anything is missing we'll know who is to blame."

They paused in front of a display of the oval room, which has a replica of the large desk at which each worked while in the White House.

President John F. Kennedy later substituted a smaller desk.

"They took out the big desk and put it in the cellar," Truman explained. "I don't know why.

"I don't know either," Eisenhower added.

Converse In Low Tones

During the tour, Truman was the most talkative of the two. Eisenhower was solemn. Much of their conversation was in low tones.

After getting the tour off to a start, Truman excused himself and Dr. Philip Brooks, library director, conducted the rest of the tour.

The two attended the inauguration of President Kennedy but did not speak.

To visitors Friday Truman explained that Joyce Hall, president of a Kansas City greeting card firm, had told him Eisenhower had expressed a desire to see the Truman library. Truman said he told Hall he would be happy to show him the library and extended an invitation through Hall.

Hall is chairman of the rededication ceremonies for the World War I Liberty Memorial in Kansas City at which Eisenhower spoke.

Deputies Look For Hit-And-Run Horse

Albuquerque, N.M. (UPI)—Bernalillo county deputies are looking for a hit-and-run horse.

Raymond T. Garcia told officers two horses strolled across the street in front of his car here.

Garcia couldn't stop and one of the animals tried to jump over the car, but missed. The vehicle's windshield was broken and the roof dented.

The horses fled. Officers said they weren't having much luck in their investigation because "they didn't have any license plates and we can't check 'em out."

ANTITRUST EVIDENCE LACKING

. . . Examiner Finds

Washington (UPI) — A Federal Trade Commission (FTC) examiner recommended Friday that the commission drop antitrust charges against 6 of the nation's biggest manufactuers of antibiotics.

Hearing Examiner Robert I. Piper found no substantial evidence that the firms had conspired to monopolize the industry as charged in a complaint issued by the FTC on July 28, 1958. His decision may be appealed, stayed, or reviewed by the commission.

Officials of the companies called Piper's decision a full vindication of their stand that they had done nothing illegal. They called the commission's charges baseless.

Companies Involved

The companies involved are American Cyanamid Co.; Bristol-Myers Co., and its subsidiary, Bristol Laboratories, Inc.; Chas. Pfizer & Co., Inc.; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., all of New York, and the Upjohn Co., Kalamazoo, Mich.

The FTC complaint had accused them of trying to monopolize the production and distribution of the broad-spectrum antibiotics tetracycline, chlortetracycline, and oxytetracycline. The charges involved price fixing, licensing arrangements and a patent on tetracycline.

New Beatrice Armory Will Be Used Soon

By GENE BUDIG

Beatrice—National Guardsmen here will have a new place to hang their helmets by January.

A sprawling, $200,000 armory is near completion.

The new building will be the home base for more than 200 khaki-clad defenders from the immediate area.

Previously, the National Guard based operations at the city auditorium.

'Inadequate'

"The city auditorium was very inadequate for such a large group," reports one Guardsman, who calls the new structure "a step in the right direction."

This so-called step is a big one—130 by 178 feet.

Also planned is a large asphalt parking lot for official vehicles.

The new armory is located along Highway 136 southwest of Beatrice.

Wanta Make Mrs. Todd Mad? Just Jeer At Women Drivers

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—If you want to make Mrs. B. V. Todd angry, just mention "woman driver" in derogatory terms.

The 52-year-old grandmother represents an estimated 43 million women drivers in this country.

As director of the women's division of the Automotive Safety Foundation in Washington, she heads the safe-driving campaign now being waged actively by 22 women's organizations.

"Anybody who says men are better drivers than women simply doesn't know what he's talking about," says Mrs. Todd, a quiet lady whose home is Lake Arthur, La.

Nothing angers her more than for someone to refer slightingly to women drivers.

"That's an old-fashioned cliche and anybody who uses it simply isn't informed," she said in an interview.

"Women are better drivers because they are more concerned with better driving; they take refresher courses in driving; they are more up-to-date than their husbands.

"They are basically concerned because of their family. They want their husbands and their children to be better drivers, so they are better drivers themselves.

"Their attitude around the home is that the mother should be a good driver, if she expects her family to drive safely. The mother does most of the driving in the family, anyway."

Mrs. Todd said the women's organizations are campaigning for safer driving all the way from the high schools to the courts.

Life Investors Gets Okay For Additional Stock

An application by the Life Investors of Nebraska to sell an additional 200,000 shares of stock at $2.50 per share has been approved by the State Banking Department.

Former Governor Victor Anderson, chairman of the board, said the new application was made to take care of the over-subscription of the $2.5 million orriginal issue offered to Nebraska citizens about 6 weeks ago.

Life Investors of Nebraska was organized by a group of prominent Nebraskans for the purpose of forming a life insurance company and an investment fund.

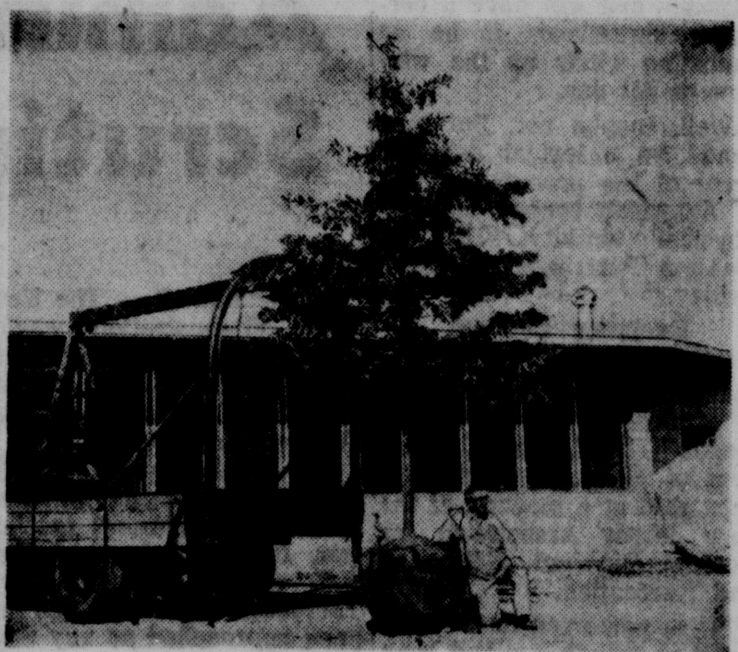
Who need the beauty of big shade trees NOW! No need to wait 5 to 10 years if you plant a $70.00 (or larger) tree like that pictured. Beautify your home, your street, your city Now!



This Pin Oak is $70.00 planted.
We have many Pin Oaks much larger. They run up to $300.00 each.
PIN OAKS
With its brilliant autumnal foliage and rapid, symmetrical habit of growth, this tree is in high demand. You can not find nicer, straighter, more sure-to-grow, more symmetrical Pin Oaks in Nebraska than are growing in our fields. We have over 2500 to pick from. We dig them all balled and burlapped, and they are all guaranteed to grow. They are priced, either delivered or completely planted, from $1.95 to $300.00. Many home owners buy these in the $25.00 to $70.00 range; these are more symmetrical than the smaller sizes because we have had more time to train them in our fields. For those folks who feel that time is running out, we recommend the larger sizes. We do have men and equipment to successfully dig and plant all sizes.

Air Service Cut 'Would Kick State Out Of 20th Century'

Omaha (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board ended a 3-day hearing Friday on Frontier Airlines' applications to reduce Nebraska service, a reduction that Gov. Frank Morrison said "would kick Nebraska out of the 20th century."

The governor made his comment in a telegram to Examiner Barron Fredricks. Frontier proposes to drop its entire northern route, eliminate stops at Sidney, McCook, Kearney and Hastings on southern route and drop Beatrice off a route to Kansas City.

Frontier has proposed that Hastings be added to the central route through Scottsbluff, Grand Island and North Platte. Representatives of Scottsbluff, Grand Island and North Platte opposed this because, they said, it would impair service on the central route by lengthening time of flights.

Scottsbluff Objects

Clark N. Williams, city councilman and former mayor, appeared for Scottsbluff Friday. In prepared testimony Williams said addition of one or more new points on the central route "between Scottsbluff, Lincoln and Omaha would substantially downgrade, to the extent of ruining, the air transportation service now provided to the Scottsbluff area to and from Lincoln, Omaha and Kansas City."

Williams said his city has primary interest with Omaha and Lincoln and lesser but important interests in Kansas City.

Present elapsed time on Frontier flights from Scottsbluff to Omaha, the former mayor said, is about 3 hours.

"The addition of only one point (on the route) would increase the elapsed time of a one-way flight from 30 minutes to one hour, and of a round-trip flight from one hour to two hours."

"This arrangment," he continued, "would curtail the available time to transact business . . . as to make it impracticable in many, if not most, instances to use the service."

Then Williams argued, as the airline and the CAB Bureau of Economic Regulation also have argued, that Hastings is close enough to Grand Island to be served through the airport there. If this was done the extra stop would not be needed.

Hastings representatives argued against that proposal in earlier testimony.

Jerry M. Pulliam, manager of the North Platte Chamber of Commerce, also argued against anything which would reduce the present level of service.

Interstate Influence

He said completion of the Interstate Highway between Lincoln and Omaha had been reflected in decreased airline boardings between these two points. The construction of this highway in the western part of Nebraska will make it even more vital not only to maintain present air service but to improve it, Pulliam said.

"Any action by this board which would add additional cities to the central route resulting in adding enroute time . . . , in increased fares or in the possible discontinuance of Convair type service to be flown (on the route) will greatly impair the growth and utilization of air service in North Platte," Pulliam said in his prepared testimony.

The representatives from Grand Island, Scottsbluff and North Platte underwent searching cross examination.

Robert Beckman, counsel for the Nebraska Aeronautics Department, emphasized the fact none of the witnesses was qualified as "an air traffic analyst."

He had some sharp exchanges with Williams and questioned Williams' testimony that "the addition of only one point on the central Nebraska route would increase the elapsed time of a one-way flight from 30 minutes to one hour."

Williams also was under heavy fire from Hastings Attorney Richard Hunter, who took particular exception to this statement concerning Hastings' need for commercial air service.

"The need felt at Hastings is based more upon a need to satisfy civic pride (as regards to) its traditional rival Grand Island than it is upon the inadequacy of the service presently available to it."

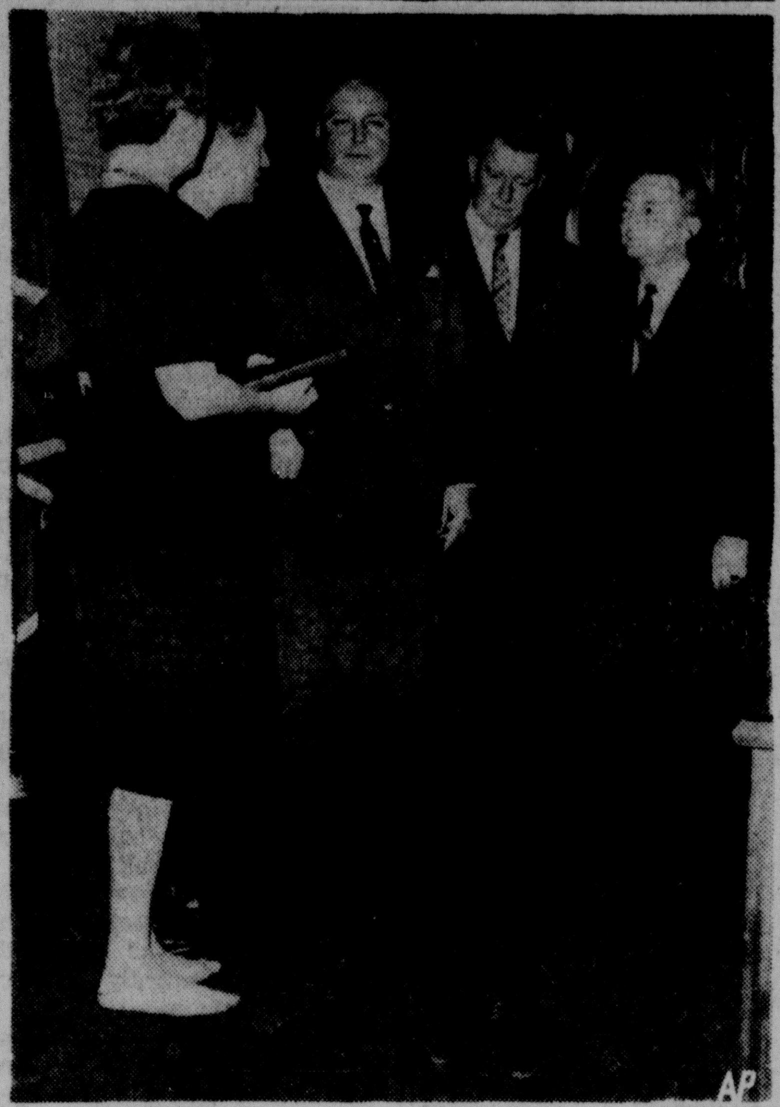
The comment, on Hunter's motion, was removed from Williams' written testimony by Examiner Fredricks.

Williams and Pulliam said that each would "welcome" service to Hastings and other Nebraska points if it didn't detract from that offered in his home town.

Beckman also drew from Williams the comment that Alliance's support of Frontier might have been different had it been given Convair instead of DC-3 service.

Department of Aeronautics lawyers, conducted cross-examination at the request of Alliance City Attorney Walter R. Metz, who was unable to attend the hearing.

Fredricks said the hearing will resume in Washington, D.C., on Nov. 28.



SHOELESS, BUT OFFICIAL

Inquest Fails To Find Fire Starter

Slough, England (AP)—A coroner's inquest ended Friday without finding out who threw the firecracker that set off a fatal fire at a Guy Fawkes Day party for show folk last Saturday night.

Three persons died, two in the flaming bungalow of British rock 'n roller Tommy Steele and a third from a heart attack caused by excitement. Diana Dors was among the stars injured escaping from the flames and exploding fireworks stored in the house to celebrate the anniversary of Guy Fawkes' attempt to blow up parliament in 1605.

Rites At O'Neill For Pilot Killed In Road Accident

O'Neill — Funeral services for Raymond Vequist, 47, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vequist of O'Neill, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Biglin's Chapel in O'Neill.

He was killed in a highway crash between Indianapolis and Lafayette, Ind., where he resided. He was employed by Purdue University as an airplane pilot, and piloted the plane which transported the university football team.

A World War II veteran, he served as a B29 bomber pilot.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mary Vanderbeek of Stuart; two daughters, Deanne, 13, and Cheryl, 10; his parents, two brothers and one sister.

Teachers, Board Settle Dispute; Classes Resumed

Pierce (AP) — Pierce Public school classes were resumed Friday morning after a dispute involving teachers and the school board.

Thursday morning teachers sent all pupils home with the explanation that teachers were having conferences.

Neither Supt. Jerry Larson nor the board would comment on the disagreement, which reportedly involved the amount of study time allotted each pupil during each school hour, beyond a brief statement by Larson.

He said: "The Pierce school board and faculty held a joint meeting Thursday. The problems involved were discussed and a workable solution obtained. The school board gave the administration and faculty their 100% backing."

Rest Home Issue Facing Valley Co.

Ord (AP) — Valley County voters will decide Dec. 12 whether to issue $250,000 in revenue bonds to pay part of the cost of a county rest home-hospital building.

The remainder of $400,000 needed for the structure would be paid for with federal funds.

Ex-Nebraskan Heads Tropical Medicine Society

Falls City (UPI) — Dr. G. Robert Coatney, son of Mrs. E. E. Coatney of Falls City, has been elected president of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, it was announced Friday.

Dr. Coatney, a scientific director for the Public Health Service, has been at the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md. He is also a special consultant to the World Health Organization and a member of the committee on malaria.

He has won several awards in the field of malaria research, including the Gorgas Medal and scroll of the Association of Military Surgeons in 1955 for the development of drugs effective against malaria.

Coatney has taught at Grand Island College, Nebraska Wesleyan University and Peru State Teachers College.

Punishment Stiff On Second Drunk Drive Conviction

A second offense drunken driving conviction was worth a $300 fine, an order not to drive for one year, 5 days in jail for John D. Simons, and two months in the police garage for his 1960 Chevrolet Impala.

Simons, 28, from Lincoln Air Force Base, changed his innocent plea to one of nolo contendere, and was found guilty after trial in Municipal Court Friday. He has appealed the verdict, and the appeal bond was set at $750.

Bristow Farmer Kille Pinned Beneath Picku

Spencer (AP) — A Bristow, Neb., farmer, 34-year-old Edwin Rood, was killed when his pickup truck went out of control on a township road 8 miles southeast of here and pinned him underneath.

Hood was alone in the truck and Boyd County Sheriff Claude Collins theorized that an apparently defective door had slipped open and the truck went out of contaol and overturned when Hood attempted to close it.

He was discovered by his wife, who had become concerned when he failed to return on schedule. Mrs. Hood and a neighbor, Bernard cin of Bristow, got a trac and pulled the overtur truck off Hood's body.

Hood's death brought 1961 Nebraska highway de toll to 284, compared with at this time a year ago.

Besides his wife, Hood survived by 3 children.

Thiessen Fined $25 For Failure To Yield

Omaha (AP) — Norman Thiessen, 35, Waterloo, Neb., was fined $25 and costs Friday for failing to yield right of way to an emergency vehicle.

Thiessen's gravel truck last month was involved in a fatal collision with a fire car. Fire Capt. James Rubeck was fatally injured and two other firemen hurt.

Potential In Unknown

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Can you imagine a 1,000-mile stretch of mountains which rise a varying distance from 3,000 to 6,000 feet being unknown to mankind? This would be impossible, you might say, because man has charted, at least roughly, every land area on the earth. If this is your reply, it means simply that you are among the vast majority of people who never think to include the ocean's floor as a part of this planet on which we live.

In the depths of the ocean, just about anything is possible and it is here that a chain of 34 seamounts has been discovered. The discovery was made by the U.S. Department of Commerce Coast and Geodetic Survey under the North Pacific Ocean. The ship involved is the newly commissioned Pioneer which is now engaged in what the department describes as "the first methodical ocean-wide survey in modern history." The ship will eventually comb 3 million square miles of ocean between the Hawaiian Islands and the Aleutian Islands, charting in detail a part of the mainly unknown ocean floor that lies beyond the Continental Shelf.

Underwater Survey

In commenting on the importance of this work, the department says: "In addition to the knowledge gained on sea-floor topography, ocean-wide surveys will contribute toward a better understanding of marine meteorology, organic matter in the oceans, the fields of submarine and surface navigation, the utilization of mineral as well as fisheries resources, and the discovery of new concepts which will inevitably come from the accumulated information supplied by a thorough survey program.

"The discovery of the seamounts is only a teaser in man's hungry quest for knowledge of the ocean frontier—a frontier comprising two-thirds of the earth's surface about which he is grossly ignorant." In other words, oceanography is the pursuit of a better way of life for all the people of the earth.

It would not be surprising if there were some who believed that the government was wasting its money in its study of the ocean's floor and other characteristics of this mass of water. Certainly, there are plenty of people who condemn the very idea of landing a man on the moon. It has been only recently that exploration of the ocean might provoke any less laughter than exploration of the moon. But knowledge of the ocean has reached a point where some of the benefits of further exploration can be more easily visualized. Underwater navigation can be improved, tremendous mineral resources can be unlocked and a vast potential in food supply can be realized from exploration of the ocean.

But somebody first had to look at the ocean scientifically before it was known that there could be any point in such exploration. It did not just suddenly come to the mind of man that the ocean was a vast storehouse of assets to the human race. There was a day when we knew no more about the ocean than we now know about the moon, just as there was a day when men knew nothing about sanitation, communications or transportation. Today, we know practically nothing about the moon so there are many who conclude that knowledge of this planet is a senseless and useless pursuit.

Concrete proof as to the possibilities of exploration of the moon cannot be provided until basic scientific research of the planet is possible. We are not even certain that there is living matter on the moon. We know practically nothing about its chemical makeup and if it offers a reservoir of resources that can be of any value to us.

We do know that travel to the moon would have in itself certain by-products that would be of tremendous advantage to us. For one thing, it would be a tremendous technical achievement to reach the moon and the technology which would go into this would be applicable in many other areas. Ability to reach the moon would also give us a remarkable ability in all space operations.

To make such a trip, we must learn to sustain life under the most rigorous circumstances and in the midst of many unknowns. This would be valuable knowledge in any space program. In addition, it is possible that the moon could become a strategic area geographically, despite its tremendous distance from the earth. The nation which conquers the distance factor between the earth and the moon may well find itself in a position of military dominance of the entire earth. It costs money to go to the moon and no one guarantees that we will make anything specific out of it.

The Military Value

But our past is filled with achievements of great merit which cost money, demanded sacrifice and held no initial promise of later rewards. To say we should forget the moon because we have not yet perfected the earth is like saying we should not fly because we have not exhausted the full potential of travel by land.

Veterans Day

Nebraskans this morning will reflect over their breakfast coffee that this is Veterans Day. Elder citizens will recall that it formerly was called Armistice Day and got its November 11 dating because that was the day the Germany of World War I officially threw in the towel. That was 43 years ago—1918.

Subsequently, the United States was required to send its youth into combat against Hitlerite Germany and Imperialist Japan. This greater and even more crucial World War II gave Armistice Day too narrow a meaning. The second deliverance prompted the more inclusive name of Veterans Day. It was also a reminder that no tour of force liquidates for long the dangers or problems of a great nation, that any solution automatically brings forth new problems which in turn must be resolved. War is one of several ways, but it is neither the most welcome nor the best. The struggle of an increasingly enlightened world is to find ways of solving problems by other ways than death.

In the last hundred years the United States has had the unusual privilege of separating the veteran from the civilian because it has engaged in wars on other soil than its own, and if there were grievous casualties and dislocations they occurred largely to the youthful segment and in places remote from the homeland.

This morning it is proper to reflect that that unusual interlude is over, probably forever, and that all of the attitudes and evaluations connected with it are no longer valid. In this new era of nuclear weapons and vast tours in space no people are remote from the battlefield, and should war occur, all survivors, if any, will have earned the title of war veteran, whether going through the experience in their cradle, at their ordinarily peaceable tasks, or in military uniform.

The NSIA Crisis

The leadership of the Nebraska School Improvement Association has warned the general membership that unless more substantial financial support is forthcoming the several year old organization will have to close up shop.

The crisis has been attributed to a number of things, public apathy, a bad press, and possibly the organization's own failure to make it clear to Nebraskans that it is trying to help rather than to obstruct education.

The organization has made unremitting war on the Nebraska State Education Association, on legislative measures that would enhance the present trends in education. It has made war for the return of teaching the three R's, for the censorship of school books, for the resumption of high school normal training and for the protection of small school districts against engulfment by broad base reorganization.

The press is not to be indicted if it dutifully published these aspirations of the NSIA, nor, in some citable instances, when it disagreed with the NSIA over its definition of improvement. One must rather conclude that the term improvement is welcome to every ear, but when it is spelled out in detail it may not fulfill the listeners' conception of improvement. Hence they lose interest and enthusiasm.

It may not necessarily follow that educators in charge are achieving all that a public would desire in the way of costs and product, but that does not award automatic patronage to wholesale retreat from the problem. Censored texts, lower teaching standards, smaller appropriations and fewer services is an adjustment to a retrograding society, and only make the education problem more acute.

Editorial Of The Day

Injection Of Vigor

From The Washington Post

The Administration could not have picked a more qualified director for Latin American aid than Teodoro Moscoso. The task of the Alliance for Progress which Mr. Moscoso will help to administer is twofold: to promote economic development and to spur social reform. Mr. Moscoso is a specialist in just this; before serving as our Ambassador to Venezuela he was for a decade the director of Puerto Rico's Operation Bootstrap, the program which has brought about the transformation of a once-forsaken island.

Most important, Mr. Moscoso is a doer with a wholesome impatience with needless red tape. This is the quality which is urgently required in his new post as Latin American area director of AID (the Agency for International Development). Whatever handicap he may carry as a Puerto Rican is more than compensated by the special skills he brings to the job; indeed, Mr. Moscoso's performance may help to allay some of the myths about Puerto Rico's supposedly "colonial" status.

The immediate task will be to make some sense out of the administrative machinery of the Alliance. Because of the rivalry between smaller and larger Latin American republics, a compromise solution was reached under which the Alliance will be supervised by a nine-man inter-American advisory committee due to be appointed this month. It is still unclear how the machinery will mesh together the officials of the Organization of American States, the Inter-American Development Bank, and the United Nations Economic Commission for Latin America.

Elections Firm President's Hand

WASHINGTON — The recent elections knocked Goldwaterism in the head in Texas, cut Gov. Rockefeller down to size in New York and New Jersey, and showed that Nixon was smart in keeping out of the presidential race in '64. But more important than any of these, the elections should affect the future settlement of Berlin.

Ever since his very slim election victory, Kennedy has been conducting foreign policy with one eye over his shoulder at his Republican opposition. The stream of mimeograph statements rolled out by Chairman William E. Miller of the Republican National Committee naturally has worried him. So have the gibes of ex-President Eisenhower and ex-Vice President Nixon.

In Chicago, Ike issued a veiled warning that he would lambaste Kennedy as an appeaser if he yielded over Berlin. Yet, Ike's own secretary of state, the late John Foster Dulles, had yielded on the question of permitting East Germans to inspect American officials' papers—on which the Kennedy administration two weeks ago took a more vigorous, though futile, stand.

Premier Khrushchev, when I saw him last summer, described Kennedy as a "man you can respect, even when you disagree with him." But he added that Kennedy ought to realize that he was President of the United States.

The President's smashing victories in New York, New Jersey and Texas will now strengthen his hand and permit him to conduct the Berlin negotiations without worrying over Republican backseat drivers. He will have to make some concessions to get a Berlin settlement, and his Republican critics can't hold against him the same concessions proposed by the late Republican secretary of state.

☆ ☆ ☆

Politicians who are diagnosing the recent election returns consider the San Antonio victory of Henry Gonzales as perhaps more significant than those in New York and New Jersey.

San Antonio was supposed to be the bulwark of Goldwaterism. Here both Barry and new GOP Sen. John Tower of Texas had made impassioned speeches, expected to roll up a heavy vote.

In San Antonio there are several thousand retired military officers, plus one of the largest Air Force bases in the country. Retired officers have been grist for the Goldwater mill, also for the new military cult which masquerades under the label of anti-communism.

Actually, the Mexican population of San Antonio is only 20 per cent. So when Henry Gonzales, whose father and mother were born in Mexico, rolled up a margin of 10,000 votes, he had to get heavy support from other walks of life in this rather conservative city.

Ike's Influence Is Not Negotiable

WASHINGTON — The New Jersey election upset mowed down a number of fond political hopes.

Sen. Clifford Case, a liberal Republican, failed in his effort to establish himself as a national figure with a powerful state machine behind him. This would have given him greater leverage and a voice to be heeded in the presidential politics of 1964.

Former Eisenhower Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, who bowed to Democrat Richard Hughes, was more than Case's hand-picked candidate against the Republican wheels who dominate the state legislature. Mitchell shares Case's views, which are and will remain a bone of contention between Case and many party spokesmen.

Mitchell's former boss has some rends in his own mantle to mull over. Eisenhower did not know the Texas and New York standard bearers for whom he spoke, but Mitchell was viewed as an exemplar of Eisenhower moderation.

☆ ☆ ☆

Probably down the drain are Eisenhower's efforts to persuade the other members of his cabinet to bare their breasts to the elective storm. They include two secretaries of defense—Neil McElroy of Ohio and Thomas Gates of Pennsylvania—and Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton of Nebraska.

The practicality of trying to share the most lustrous political mantle with others is a well-worn subject of debate. Even an incumbent president normally inspires only his own troops.

But Republicans do not think of Eisenhower as a party man; they did believe he had a hold on voters generally which would be useful.

This notion must be abandoned, barring a war-or-peace issue of immediate and strong emotional impact. If there is any one thing Eisenhower made plain on the hustings recently, it is that he sees no such issue now. He is still on a fiscal kick, and though he may be everlastingly right, that issue lacks appeal to the wards.

Politicians will chew over the fact that Mitchell, the best-known name, refused to debate state issues with Hughes.

There seems little doubt that Richard Nixon made a lasting mark on American politics by debating John F. Kennedy last year. For better or for worse, candidates will be dealing with that one from now on.

There is always in politics the factor of accident. When Mitchell broke his leg, he lost mobility, and though he bravely kept to savage schedules on crutches, the pain and shock of his injury emphasized his greater age.

No mistakes were made in the actual campaigning. Case and his astute aide, Sam Zagoria, built on Mitchell's greatest asset: his experience. Robert Burkhardt, who long worked with Gov. Robert Meyner, resolutely keyed the Hughes approach to state problems, where Hughes was strong. New Jersey, in the Truman vernacular, voted for itself.

ON TARGET

By DON WALTON

Tell them we'll fight for them.

We're committed to their freedom as well as our own. We'll die for their human rights — as well as our own.

Walton

But we hope you'll also remind them, ever so tactfully, Governor, that they ought to be darn grateful.

Forty-three years ago today, an armistice ended the First World War. Americans and Germans—facing each other as enemies on the bloodied soil of Europe—laid down their arms.

A peace which Germany considered unjust was imposed on the defeated foe.

Twenty-six years later, Americans were again dying on the war-torn continent. Once again the bullets which ended their lives were fired from German guns.

That conflict has been ended now 16 years.

A benevolent victor helped the defeated opponent back onto his feet.

Now, that nation's western half is robust and prosperous—growing by leaps and bounds.

The western half of its divided old capital has regained its pre-war energy.

Eastern Germany and East Berlin lag behind, victims of an inefficient and less benevolent Russian communist master.

Governor Morrison leaves today to visit West Germany and Berlin itself.

It is a journey most Americans would like to take, an opportunity for a first-hand look at the current focus of cold war crisis.

It would be a valuable experience for any of us.

Despite two wars in 4 decades which pitted our nations against one another, we now treat individual Germans as equals—and well we should.

We no longer demand shame or guilt. We have cast aside old hates and unfair prejudices.

We accept them as allies. We find much to admire in their vibrant society, in a nation which has given much more than war to the world.

We welcome them as our friends.

☆ ☆ ☆

But, if we now accept one another as equals and companions, then this is more of a tribute to us than it is to them.

In all of history, has a conqueror ever treated the vanquished as well?

Perhaps nowhere in the world is the basic, often overlooked fact of the cold war more nakedly visible than in Germany.

The more you analyze this conflict, the more you come to what might at first appear to be a rather immature conclusion:

The cold war is basically a battle between good and evil, right and wrong.

It is we who believe in God and the God-given dignity of man, in freedom and equality, in justice and law, in charity and compassion.

We are concerned with poverty and hunger and disease because they cause human suffering, not because they are a convenient breeding ground for our system.

We explode fearsome weapons to bolster freedom's defenses, not to transmit a shock wave of fear designed to blackmail those who do not stand with us.

We allow free choice of government and we ask that all peoples have the same choice, particularly those in all of Germany and Eastern Europe.

We have our obvious faults at home and abroad. But, America is at least trying.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now, the sad thing about this argument is that a Russian communist in Moscow can substantiate the same finding in his behalf.

He has another language.

Religion is superstition; there can be no freedom and equality, justice or law under capitalist exploitation of the people.

Only in a communist society can good and right prevail.

It would not be too far wrong to conclude that, in truth, we do live in two different worlds.

Pension Need

Lincoln, Neb.

I have read Robert Peterson's article, "Life Begins At 40" wherein he urges lifting of restrictions on earnings by the elderly, and it has a faint smell of communistic double-talk to me.

I contend that social security as now administered and as it has been administered is rotten, a political football, a farce. It is such a tragedy that those who need and deserve it do not receive it, those who are too old to work, too ill and poverty stricken. A fair and just security should be given in blanket form and given only to those who have no other income. There is a vast army of old workers who hang onto their jobs through fear of inadequate security, thus leaving no vacancies for unemployed and the idle youngsters who would be better employed. There is another vast army drawing social security who are of independent means and to whom social security money means only a few added luxuries.

Each individual each year after age 60 should be allowed his choice of holding his job or other sources of income, or accepting social security payments. In view of presently inflated prices, $200 a month should be the blanket pension allowed for each individual. Such individual should be barred until he agrees to forfeit other income. A check on income tax returns should make this reasonably simple.

Why is the government so parsimononious about pensioning aged and ill persons? One hundred per cent of the money thus granted goes right back into trade channels and thus it becomes a revolving fund and not like the billions we throw away on foreign aid and on foolish military installations that are abandoned in a few years or perhaps never used, and thus a dead loss.

One poor old alley cat wonders why all this.

School Aid

Litchfield, Neb.

The editorial, "How Tight Can We Get," proves many points. Whether we have state or federal aid in education, it still means that local school patrons lose control over their school districts. Right is right and wrong is wrong; it never changes in theory.

Some think keeping up with the Joneses is a must, but is it? Just because this or that state has aid or state tax is no sign Nebraska should be a copycat. Bet if the truth were known, those states in the end are worse off than Nebraska.

More could and should be done if the people would only reason and think things out. Too many leap into the fire before thinking and we already have too much leaping going on. Let's take it easy and live longer.

The Same Path

Lincoln, Neb.

This is in reply to William O. Reichert's comments about distorted press coverage on Dr. Randall's speech before the Lincoln Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy which appeared in this column on Nov. 8.

Although the subject is not really complicated, Mr. Reichert's choice of words has made it so for this moment. First of all, the very name of the organization Mr. Reichert champions, "The National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy," should be repugnant to any loyal, intelligent citizen. The unmistakable inference in this much publicized title is that our nation's policy is and has been for many years insane. To follow this line of reasoning to its conclusion, we would have to seriously question the sanity of three presidents and thousands of elected and appointed government leaders who shape national policy.

The propaganda value inherent in the name of such committees cannot be lightly dismissed. Ten years ago we had the "Committee for Justice for the Rosenbergs." The committee's name inferred that the Rosenbergs were victims of some terrible injustice and conspiracy perpetrated to defraud good citizens of their rights. The now obvious purpose of such committees found throughout the world is to sow distrust in the citizenry of their elected representatives and leaders. It is not a thing to take lightly.

Beyond finding out that the SANERS are against war and militantly for peace, it is difficult to establish what SANE does propose and how these proposals would be implemented.

There is nothing unusually complicated about defining one's position on this "cold war" subject. The outright traitor and the defeatist walk the same path. Although I'm no historian, my instinct tells me that every country in every age has had its share of defeatists and prophets of doom. These are the experts on drawing up terms of surrender.

What the SANERS are asking, apparently, is that we take the calculated risk of unilateral disarmament and face the Soviets' giant war machine with outstretched hands, palms up.

We have something in America worth fighting for. That the Soviet communists would destroy us if they could, I have no doubt; that to keep our freedom, we must be fully prepared to fight for it. If we won't or don't fight for it, we'll certainly lose it. I have no doubt that the United States has and is making every honorable effort possible to prevent war. For every reason a defeatist gives me for not being ready to fight, I'll give him two reasons why we should.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Singer Discovers Health Regime After 40

By ROBERT PETERSON

I suppose every male who has ever watched chanteuse Hildegarde perform has been a bit smitten by her. It must have been 20 years ago that I watched her sashay through her act in the supper club of a Washington hotel, and though I've seen her in person but once or twice in the intervening years I've often found myself thinking of her beauty, humor, and feminine graces.

When a friend introduced her to me this afternoon I fumbled around like a stage-struck adolescent. "I suppose you're going to ask if my life began at 40," she said with a helpful smile. "I remember that birthday well—I cried my eyes out. Forty sounded so unattractive. But I lived through it and something did begin after 40—a new interest in health."

She said it began one evening when a woman approached her at the stage door of a Milwaukee theater saying, "You look anemic and rundown — you should let me help you improve your health." Hildegarde said she laughed it off and went home. But she hadn't been feeling particularly well and began wondering if she could be taking a keener interest in her health. When she met the woman again they became friends and she became a ready pupil of her well-informed views on health and nutrition. Later the two of them teamed up with a Wisconsin pharmacist and became partners in a firm manufacturing a high-protein food supplement in tablet form.

"I'm very careful about the kind and quantity of food I eat," said Hildegarde. "I have very little breakfast — usually just a glass of juice. I eat no lunch, except maybe a cup of soup or a glass of juice. My big meal is at night—lean meat, vegetables, and fruits — preferably raw or lightly cooked. I stay away from animal fats, drink skim milk, eat soybean butter, and use honey instead of sugar. And I take seven food supplement tablets a day.

"I'm also a staunch believer in exercise. I walk to all my appointments and exercise 15 minutes a day—using push and pull devices which create muscular resistance."

As I gazed at this remarkably attractive blonde with her clear blue eyes, pink skin, perfect figure, and radiant vitality I asked with some awe how she did it. Her laugh tinkled like silver bells. "I think the average woman can be whatever she really wants to be. I suppose that when some women reach the half century mark they fear growing old and losing their looks and health. But if you follow the principles of good health you become very confident of retaining your appearance and vitality. You can then stop worrying about age and enjoy life as it comes."

There's a lot of controversy in the field of health and nutrition. And some doctors and other practitioners will likely scoff at Hildegarde's dietary views. But no one in his right mind will scoff at her interest in personal health. If more of us took an interest in guarding our health we'd forestall many of the ills we are otherwise doomed to encounter in the years ahead.

Berets Rejected

Gaza (AP)—The United Nations command has ordered 72,000 yards of blue muslin for some of the toughest soldiers in the world. It's needed to make turbans for bearded Sikh troopers from India, who won't adopt the blue berets worn by other U.N. emergency force units on the Egyptian-Israeli border.

3 Civil Defense Lectures Planned

The Nebraska Civil Defense Agency has announced that it is preparing to hold 3 seminars in the state during November.

These will be in the form of training sessions in which all phases of civil defense will be discussed.

Purpose of the meetings is to give information and to train local civil defense directors, members of county boards, mayors and members of the legislature.

Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, state civil defense director, will open each of the seminars.

The first will be conducted at the National Guard Armory in Lincoln at 1:00 p.m. Nov. 12. The second will be held at the Scottsbluff armory Nov. 19, and the final seminar will be held Nov. 26 at the North Platte Armory. All meetings will begin at 1:00 p.m.

Chemical Researcher Plans NU Speaking Engagement

Dr. John R. Van Wazer, distinguished researcher in chemistry, will be guest lecturer at a meeting of the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Xi next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Bessey Hall auditorium.

The 1961-62 national Sigma Xi lecturer, Dr. Van Wazer will speak on "Reorganization of Molecular Structures through Ligand-Interchange."

A native of Chicago, he was for 10 years assistant director of research and senior scientist in the Inorganic Chemicals Division of the Monsanto Chemical Company. He is now engaged full time in fundamental scientific research and operates a research institute under the auspices of Monsanto.

During the war, he worked on the separation of Uranium 235 at Oak Ridge. He is author of about 75 scientific publications and several books.

Bank Clearings Show 11.1% Hike

New York (AP) — Omaha bank clearings for the week ended Nov. 8 were $203,534,000, an increase of 11.1% from the same week a year ago, Dunn and Bradstreet, Inc., reported.

The report said bank clearings in 26 leading cities, including Omaha dipped to their lowest since the Labor Day weekend for the week ended Wednesday, falling 11.2% from the previous week. But this level was 8.7% higher than a year ago, the report said.

Railway Commissioners Get New Airline Case Evidence On Tuesday

The Nebraska Railway Commission Tuesday will hear a motion by the State Aeronautics Department to introduce new evidence in opposition to Frontier Airline's application to discontinue flights to northern Nebraska cities.

A motion by the city of Valentine and the Valentine Chamber of Commerce for a 60-day extension of time beyond a Wednesday deadline to file its briefs in the same case also will be heard Tuesday.

Ainsworth Friday filed a motion similar to the one by Valentine for an extension of brief time. A commission official said it would probably be considered Tuesday along with the others.

The Aeronautics Commission wants until Jan. 15 to file its new evidence.

The department had rested its case.

Frontier Airlines has received authority from the Civil Aeronautics board to drop air service to the northern communities, which include Norfolk, Ainsworth, Valentine and Chadron.

The commission Friday set Jan. 3 as the date for a hearing on the application of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad to discontinue passenger trains between Lincoln and the Missouri State line.

Cities affected would be Lincoln, Denton, Crete, Wilber, DeWitt, Beatrice, Blue Springs, Wymore, Salem, Falls City, Preston and Rulo. The trains terminate in St. Joseph, Mo.

The same railroad will get a hearing Dec. 22 in Grant on its request to drop its custodian at the Grainton station.

In another action, the commission set Nov. 28 in McCook as the date for a hearing on the applications by the Hartman Telephone Exchanges of Danbury to issue notes for money to convert its system to dial and then raise the rates.

Southern Oilman Acquires Leases Near Hemingford

Alliance (AP) — Representatives of Quintin Little of Ardmore, Okla., have acquired oil leases on about 30,000 acres of Box Butte County land in the area southeast of Hemingford.

A spokesman for Little said that the block had been acquired "for purposes of development."

Don J. Leeman of Ardmore, a broker who supervised a 7-man crew in obtaining the leases over the past 5 weeks, said he could not elaborate on when or to what extent development would proceed.

Over 25,000 acres were leased by the crew at 50 cents per acre over a 10-year period. On Tuesday Leeman was the successful bidder for Little on oil leases sold in Lincoln on 4,400 additional acres of public school land. His successful bid was 50 cents per acre.

This is Little's first venture into Nebraska. Little is a large independent oil producer in southern Oklahoma and northern Texas.

Foreign Funds Meet Slated For January

A meeting aimed at attracting foreign capital to Nebraska will be held here in January.

Gov. Frank Morrison said Friday he has arranged the gathering for Dr. E. Bendheim, representing the foreign trade information office of the federal republic of Germany.

Morrison leaves Saturday for two weeks in Germany as a guest of the West German government.

"Up to now no state has attempted to interest foreign capital," the governor said.

Morrison disclosed he has asked Arthur Norris of the University of Nebraska to prepare a brochure on foreign capital.

Noting there will likely be a rush of American capital to Europe, Morrison remarked, "There is no reason why we shouldn't get into the act, coaching foreign capital here."

The chief executive said he has asked Norris to study European industries which could profitably locate in America, particularly Nebraska.

Wages are climbing in Europe and in the near future, pay levels between Europe and America will be stabilized, Morrison said.

Meet Star Carrier Don Mohlman Jr.

Donald Mohlman Jr. delivers the Lincoln Star to customers between South and Prospect from 17th to 20th.

Donald

Don, in the seventh grade at Irving Junior High, rates arithmetic and physical education as his favorite subjects.

The sports he likes best are baseball and football. He has pitched for the Little Chiefs for the past 4 years, and plays right halfback for the Lion's Club midget football team.

This carrier's other activities include coin collecting, building model trains, and being an active member of the youth fellowship at the First Plymouth Church.

Don's route earns him a $20 profit each 4 weeks. He uses the money to buy his own clothes, saving some for a college education.

His plans for the future center around getting a college education in engineering or physics. Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mohlman Sr. of 1920 Harwood.

Supreme Court Rules Error In CPPD Case

The State Supreme Court held Friday that the Lancaster District Court erred in sustaining a motion for summary judgment in favor of Consumers Public Power District in an action brought against CPPD by Fay Smith & Associates, Inc., a firm of consulting engineers.

The case involved a dispute over the amount of pay which the Smith firm should receive for some preliminary work and studies on what has since become the Hallam Power Plant.

The Supreme Court, reversing the lower court, said "it is apparent to us that a genuine issue as to a material fact exists and that the motion for summary judgment should have been overruled."

The Supreme Court sent the case back to lower court "for further proceedings according to law."

In another opinion, the Supreme Court affirmed the Knox County District Court's judgment in a case in which Loyd West was the plaintiff and Paul J. Wegner was the defendant.

The case involved payment of a promissory note. The court found for Wegner.

New Trial

The court also ordered a new trial of a lawsuit growing out of a traffic fatality near McCook Nov. 14, 1959.

Austin L. Bland was killed instantly in a collision between the car he was driving and a semi-trailer truck owned by Marcus D. and Melvin M. Fox, and driven by Marcus.

Barbara Ann Bland, administratrix of Bland's estate, brought the lawsuit against Marcus and Melvin Fox. The Red Willow District Court, after hearing the plaintiff's evidence and before hearing the defense evidence, directed a verdict for the defendants, whereupon the plaintiff appealed to the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court held that the plaintiff's evidence was substantial enough so that the issue of negligence should have been submitted to the jury.

Disbars Lawyer

The Court, by majority opinion, refused to reinstate Elven A. Butterfield of Neligh to the practice of law, and instead ordered his disbarment.

Judge Edward F. Carter wrote the majority opinion. Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons and Judge John W. Yeager dissented, and Judge Robert Brower dissented in part.

Butterfield was suspended in 1959 for unprofessional conduct in an action brought by the State Bar Association. On June 1, 1960, Butterfield filed his application for reinstatement and the court undertook to determine whether he had violated the suspension order by practicing law.

The court noted that Butterfield, during the suspension, made out income tax returns among other documents and advertised his availability for such income tax work. This, said the court, was violative of the canons of professional ethics.

Judge Brower, while concurring in the result of the opinion, said he disagrees with the finding "that a suspended lawyer may not do those things which might properly be performed by persons not admitted to the bar. No authorities are cited which sustain this proposition."

Judges Yeager and Simmons dissented on grounds the evidence against Butterfield was too flimsy and failed to include "a showing of overt significance."

Divorce Ruling

The Supreme Court held also that Virgil Attebery, because he waited 23 years to bring the action, was barred from challenging the validity of a divorce decree against him.

The judgment reversed that of the Lincoln County District Court, which had vacated and set aside the divorce decree.

Dorothy Attebery, who has since remarried and whose name is now Dorothy Hulett, obtained a divorce from Virgil Attebery in 1935 on grounds Attebery had been sentenced to one to two years in the State Men's Reformatory for jail breaking.

Attebery also remarried later.

In bringing action in 1959 to have the divorce decree set aside, Attebery contended that Nebraska law at the time of the divorce action, and since then, requires a minimum sentence of 3 years in the penitentiary or reformatory as grounds for divorce.

The District Court vacated the divorce decree. But the Supreme Court said:

"A husband who waits for more than 20 years after a decree of divorce is obtained by his wife against him with timely knowledge of the proceeding in which it was entered, during which time his wife after waiting three years is remarried, and the husband leaves his children of tender years to be, in part, cared for and nurtured till maturity by the divorced wife and her second husband, and who himself during that time remarries, is guilty of laches and comes into court with unclean hands and is stopped to question the validity of the decree."

BREAD BAKING NOT LOST ART

These home extension agents will help homemakers brush up on their baking skills during teaching sessions next year. Agents from 29 Nebraska counties are receiving training this week at the University of Nebraska ag college, including some tips on bread-baking. Ethel Diedrichsen, extension food and nutrition specialist, is instructing this group in the art of making French bread. Pictured are (from left) Mrs. Maribeth Sall of Syracuse, Miss Diedrichsen, Mrs. Kay Leiding of Weeping Water, and Mrs. Martha Krabel of Hastings.

Man Found Guilty Of Shooting Wife

Omaha (AP) — A District Court jury found Jack Marion, Omaha, guilty of second degree murder for the shooting of his wife last Dec. 3.

The shooting followed a quarrel at the couple's home. The jury of 9 women and 3 men deliberated 4½ hours before reaching a verdict.

District Judge Patrick W. Lynch deferred sentence.

N.J. Governor's Mansion Not Geared For Big Hughes Clan

By JOY MILLER

Trenton, N.Y. (AP) — When you have 9 children, you can't just pick up and move into any old place. Not even if it's the governor's mansion.

That's why Mrs. Richard Hughes, who's expecting a 10th child next spring, hasn't made up her mind about living at Morven, the New Jersey governor's residence, after her husband is inaugurated in January as successor to retiring Gov. Robert Meyner.

"There are 9 bedrooms, so sleeping space is adequate," brunette Betty Hughes ticked off Friday. "But there's no room geared for a playroom.

Don't Know

"The house is lovely. But the Meyners are the first to live in it, and there never have been any children there. So I don't know how it would work out.

"I don't like to waste my worries, so I didn't think about it until the election was over. Now I'll try to decide on this trip."

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left later Friday on a Caribbean cruise. On the return trip they'll stop off at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where the 7 younger children, accompanied by their grandmother, will join them Nov. 22 for a long Thanksgiving weekend.

Things Will Close

"Dick really hasn't seen the kids since he started campaigning in February. And once he gets back, things will close in again," she mused.

Mrs. Hughes was up until 3 Friday morning writing checks—"I like to get bills paid by the 10th"—and lining up what the children will need in her absence, and replying both to election congratulations and sympathy messages. Hughes' 85-year-old father died Sunday.

The Hughes live in a three-story house with a huge basement playroom in which each youngster has his own locker. The house is Georgian Colonial "but the decor is Hughes-Murphy-Sullivan. Some furniture is his, some mine, some was added for economy. Life is too short to worry about matching periods in furniture."

Mrs. Hughes, born Sullivan, was a young widow with 3 small boys when she met Hughes, a widower with 4 children. Her husband, Air Force Capt. William M. Murphy, was killed in a crash in 1951.

They were out trick-or-treating with the children Halloween night, 1954, and ended up at the home of a mutual friend.

"We were married 6 months later. I was in the big league overnight. The minute I said 'I do' I was the mother of a big family."

Since then they've added two youngsters. They hope fervently the newcomer is a girl, because the family stands now at two girls, 7 boys.

Ebullient

During the campaign Mrs. Hughes pitched in, and her ebullient, off-the-cuff speeches made her many friends around the state.

"It's easier to be a candidate's wife than a candidate," she explained. "Nobody expects you to make profound statements about the state of the world. And I certainly didn't."

Mrs. Hughes made no bones about being 40 next Jan. 15. "And sometimes I feel ready for Social Security."

Easy-Going

Her husband, 52, is the easy-going type, she said.

"The only tough part about living with him is I'm forced to be the disciplinarian, especially now he's so busy. I'm not sure I like this Scrooge role, but someone has to do it."

She paused, then added with a wistful sigh:

"Sometimes I think I'll change my type — be calm, dignified, not so hotheaded. I try, but it lasts only a few days."

HELD FOR RIPPING FLAG

Jesus Farias Iglesias, 28, a Mexican national from Guadalajara, waits Friday to be booked in Los Angeles on suspicion of disturbing the peace. Earlier two men made a citizen's arrest of him on historic Olvera Street because, they said, he pulled a U.S. flag from its pole and ripped it.

Backers Of Birth Control Arrested

...To Test Connecticut Law

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — Two officials of the Planned Parenthood League of Connecticut were arrested Friday in the reopening of a birth control clinic here.

Warrents were served on Mrs. Richard W. Griswold, executive director of the league, and Dr. C. Lee Buxton, medical director of the league.

Both officials were booked at New Haven Police Headquarters and ordered to appear in circuit court Nov. 24.

Each was charged with being an accessory to the use of a contraceptive.

The warrants for their arrests were issued by Circuit Court Prosecutor Julius Maretz.

To Test Law

The league reopened its first clinic in the state Nov. 1 to test the state's controversial anti-birth control law.

When the clinic was reopened the league's legal counsel, Fowler V. Harper, said he thought the legal issue "should be settled once and for all by the highest court."

"I think it would be a state and community service if a criminal action were brought," Harper said at the time.

In June, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to rule on the constitutionality of the 82-year-old Connecticut law.

Dead Words

The court said the law was so many "dead words" and it noted that no one had ever been prosecuted under it.

The law prohibits any persons from using any drug, medicinal article or instrument for the purpose of preventing conception.

A violation is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of at least $50, imprisonment for not less than 60 days or more than a year, or both.

Another related law states that any person who helps or advises another to break a law can be punished as if he were the principal offender.

Non-Farm Job Placements Total 5,062 During October

Manufacturing and construction jobs accounted for more than half the total of 5,062 nonfarm job placements made in October by the division of employment security of the State Department of Labor.

Eight out of 10 of those placed were male applicants.

Applications for work were fewer. The 3,531 received in October were 8% less than September and 9% less than October 1960. At the beginning of November, there were 9,316 people registered as actively seeking work, compared to 9,540 on October 1 and 7,700 Nov. 1, 1960.

Unemployment insurance payments were down one to two percent, about normal for October. Payments from state funds totaled $361,148 in October, compared to $367,026 in September and $235,934 in October 1960.

The following is the summary of local employment conditions:

Alliance: Labor supply currently includes 53 men and 63 women compared to 38 men and 46 women a month earlier. Many of the women are applying for clerical or sales work. Construction labor demand is moderate. The sugar beet harvest is nearing completion.

Beatrice: Number of job seekers is currently higher than a month ago with the greatest increase with women applicants. On November 1 there are 137 men and 147 women, while on October 1 there were 124 men and 103 women. Employment remains high with continued open weather.

Columbus: Employment remained steady through October, although demand declined sharply. The 196 job seekers registered on November 1 was an increase of only 61 over last month and was 86 under the total registered a year ago. An upward trend in the demand for women workers was noted near month end.

Fremont: Labor demand took a brisk upturn in October. Hiring was heaviest in construction followed closely by agriculture and manufacturing. This uptrend resulted in an 18 percent increase in job placements over September. The labor supply increased slightly from 309 in September to 346 at the end of October.

Grand Island: This area continued to show a very favorable employment picture during October. More job opportunities were listed with the office than in October 1960. There has been no let up in construction and new highway contracts are to be let soon. Manufacturing continues at peak activity.

Hastings: October labor demand was at a highpoint for the entire year. Shortages of qualified workers developed. Claims for unemployment compensation were at the lowest volume of the year. Employment reports show a 2.5 percent increase in Hastings employment from August 1 to November 1.

Kearney: Ideal weather during October added many days to the tag end of the work season for the bulk of the outdoor workers. Construction and harvest activities were operating at high levels. Some downturn in alfalfa milling occurred, but most mill hands found other seasonal employment.

Lincoln: Demand for workers remained brisk in spite of declining forces in agriculture, transportation and utilities and temporary government activity. Employment in trade advanced 250. Consruction employment recorded an addition of 100 workers as work was accelerated before winter brings a halt to activity.

McCook: October employment records show near full-employment in the area. An active file of 157 job seekers on October 1 was reduced to only 128 on November 1. Part of the reduction was due to students being placed on part time jobs. Employer job offers dropped from 95 nonfarm to 69 over-the-month.

Nebraska City: Demand for nonfarm workers indicated by employer requests was down sharply from last year 343 to 198 and lower than last month with 268. There was a moderate decline in the labor supply from 538 at the beginning of the month to 481 at the close. The current total includes 204 men and 227 women.

Norfolk: No significant increase was noted in the total number of unemployed job seekers during the month. Above normal labor demand held down unemployment. Comparatively few seasonal workers lost their jobs, but the supply of semiskilled labor and farm workers gained a little.

North Platte: The last three monthe beginning in August labor demand has been at a steady 15 percent increase over the same months a year ago. The number of persons placed on jobs has not kept pace with the increased demand due to lack of qualified workers.

Omaha: The number of registered job seekers is 3 percent below the count of a month ago, but 43 percent higher than a year ago. There was only a small drop in the number of new registrations for work. Labor demand was 8 percent lower than in September and 34 percent below October last year.

Scottsbluff: Demand for nonfarm workers increased 34 percent during the month with 437 openings being received. A year ago the number was 344. Demand for agricultural workers dropped as the harvest neared completion. The labor supply decreased from 583 in September to 496 at the end of October.

Sidney: Our reports indicate that business in the area is on a par if not a little better than last fall. Employment is expected to continue at a high level as long as the weather is favorable. A total of 224 workers were placed on jobs with 81 of these farm jobs mainly sugar beet and potato harvest work.

Frank Golden Postmaster Bid Opposed

Petitions stating that signers "absolutely oppose the nomination of Frank Golden as postmaster" are being circulated among Lincoln barbers.

Golden, Lancaster County Democratic chairman, operates a barber shop in Havelock.

He said recently he was definitely interested in an appointment as Lincoln postmaster.

O. E. Jerner, present postmaster, has been criticized recently by local postal clerks and carriers for alleged failure to settle grievances.

Comment Declined

An investigation of the charges is being made by U.S. postal inspectors, but Jerner has declined comment on the investigation and on reports he plans to resign.

The barbers' petitions cite "lack of cooperation displayed by Golden during the state convention of 1961."

This was in reference to the first annual state barbers convention in Lincoln.

Golden, according to several barbers, did not close his shop for one day during the convention. Most Lincoln shops closed on that day.

One of the barbers circulating the petitions said copies will be sent to Democratic National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle of Omaha.

Golden is a former U.S. marshal and was head of the state cigaret tax division in 1959 and 1960.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

How many jobs does a busy young mother fill? I have never had time to count them, but I am very much aware that some of them are more important than others, and one of the most important is making every dollar in the budget stretch as far as it can. So I do a lot of my own sewing, I shop hard for bargains, and I read the Want Ads faithfully. To me the Want Ad pages are just like a big department store where it is easy to find many of our family needs. And from time to time I run an ad myself. It is a quick, low cost way to sell items which we no longer need.

Here is a sample of the variety of items being offered daily in the Classified columns of your newspaper and the results they brought:

Iron Eyes Cody Takes Warpath

By JOSEPH FINIGAN

Hollywood (UPI) —Indian actor Iron Eyes Cody is on the warpath against the television industry using palefaces to play redskins.

He's almost mad enough to scalp the heads of all 3 networks and anybody else who happens along.

Donning his war bonnett, the stern faced Iron Eyes cast a cold glance at Hollywood and started looking for scalps.

Cody, a Cherokee Indian who's been whooping it up for years around filmland's covered wagons, is a gentleman steeped in Indian lore.

Iron Eyes came to Hollywood in 1924 and became a technical advisor to producers filming horse operas. He worked with the late Cecil B. De Mille in 11 of that director's pictures before turning to acting in 1947.

Recalling his days as a technical advisor, Iron Eyes said, "one time a Navajo rug got mixed up in a Sioux scene and I got panned for it."

Anybody who is concerned about Mrs. Smith's rugs getting mixed up with Mrs. Jones' has got to be a fiend on authenticity, and Iron Eyes fits into that category.

Weeping Rust

Iron Eyes was almost bloodshot as he seemingly wept rust over the plight of movieland's Indians.

"Every white man wants to play an Indian role," said Iron Eyes.

"There are a lot of good Indian roles around now and Jeff Chandler really started something," he said, referring to the late actor who played Cochise in the movie "Broken Arrow."

Indian actors have had such a rough time lately in Hollywood that some have been playing Chinese Hawaiian roles, sans feathers of course.

"There aren't too many Indian actors in town, only about 10 who can do something," Cody said. "There are also about 65 extras but they still all can't get enough work."

Battle-Ready U.S. Riflemen Roll Through Red Territory

Berlin (AP)—A company of battle-ready American riflemen rolled across 110 miles of Communist territory to West Berlin without incident Friday.

They arrived amid cautious optimism that newly disclosed Soviet proposals would provide at least a breathing space for the divided and harried city. Mayor Willy Brandt said the proposals might make successful negotiations easier.

What gave Berliners some encouragement was the possibility that Moscow is now willing to guarantee their freedom and ties with the West as a first step. But they see plenty of trouble ahead when East and West start discussing just what those guarantees should be like.

The visiting riflemen belong to Company D, 1st Battle Group, 15th Infantry, 3rd Division. They came in 3 lots, spaced during the day. The rear guard, led by Capt. Rex I. Holland of Glencoe, Okla., the company commander, checked through at dusk—4:30 p.m.

Company D looked as if it meant business, with camouflage nets over the men's steel helmets and rifles held between their knees. It was the first of a series of units to come into Berlin for a few days training and then return to West Germany.

U.S. Army commanders set up the training program after the Soviets objected to regular "military assistance vehicles" driving down the highway. These were unarmed vehicles traveling the road to help stranded travelers. The Soviet command was notified of Friday's movement, and did not interfere.

A ticklish border situation was eased, meanwhile, at Gesundbrunnen railroad junction, just inside the French sector of Berlin. There the Communists had irritated West Berliners by painting "DDR" in 10-foot black letters on a disused water tower. "DDR" stands in German for the "German Democratic Republic," the Communist satellite state.

Billiard Burglar Gets Away With $35

Thirty five dollars was stolen from the Deluxe Billiard parlor early Friday.

The establishment, located at 1615 O and owned by Carl C. Wise, of 3254 C, was entered through the rear door about 12:30 a.m.

Police said the burglar was apparently in the building when Officer Philip Roth checked the front door, and fled leaving one cash register untouched.

QUEEN TREATED TO REGAL PAGEANTRY, CLOWNING IN GHANA

Accra, Ghana (AP)— Hundreds of market women pranced, jiggled and jived past Queen Elizabeth II Friday night in a West African-style climax to a day of regal pageantry and clowning.

Then, at a glittering state banquet, both the visiting Queen and President Kwame Nkrumah dwelt upon Guana's membership in the commonwealth as a republic. The Queen is recognized in the commonwealth republics as a symbol of unity rather than as a monarch.

The day began with a big clockwork precision display of nearly 3,000 Ghana's crack troops in Black Star Square—possibly the biggest parade ground in Africa.

Red coated infantrymen, police, navy and air force men and brilliantly uniformed cavalry drilled and marched past the Queen for nearly 3 hours.

After lunch, the Queen and Prince Philip came back with Nkrumah to the square for an even larger civilian parade. Nearly 15,000 school children, Boy Scouts, cocoa farmers, church groups and workers marched past. Hundreds of young pioneers—a youth movement modeled on its Soviet namesake—dashed on to the square in bright red, yellow and green uniforms to form the Ghana flag.

Almost every facet of Ghana life was represented in the afternoon parade, but the market women in gaily colored national dress stole the show. The huge crowd of close to 100,000 roared with delight as the women swayed in a jazzy dance.

High up in the reviewing stand the Queen smiled broadly and the Prince slapped his knee as he laughed over the women's antics. A clown followed and the crowd roared again as he threw off his coat, hat, shoes and began to unbutton his shirt like a stripteaser but changed his mind and strode past like a top sergeant.

'Symphony Veterans' Have Not Retired Their Interest In Symphony Activity

In spite of the fact that the Lincoln Symphony Guild's Headdress Ball presented a colorful picture in the ballroom at Hotel Cornhusker on Friday evening, the headdresses were incidental to personalities attending the affair.

At one of the tables sat a group of uncostumed men and women——At the table, reserved for Mrs. Ellery Davis, were what the Symphony Guild calls "Veterans" in the work of the Lincoln Symphony association.

In addition to Mrs. Davis, who served for many years as a member of the Symphony Association board, and also as its president there were other Veterans, Mrs. Ruth Raymond Gavin, for instance, who also had served as president of the Association as well as a diligent member of the board for a period of years; Mrs. Donald W. Miller, whose husband, the late Mr. Miller, helped organize the Lincoln Symphony; Mark Pierce, who has been a member of the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra for the past 35 years, and Mrs. Pierce. Joining the group were Thomas C. Woods who has assisted in Symphony work in many ways; Mrs. Arthur S. Raymond and Mrs. Wayne Pringle.

The Arnot Folsoms Have Plenty Of Excitement On The High Seas

'Tis said that an ocean voyage does wonders for people. Allegedly there is a certain tranquillity, a peace and quiet—especially when one is on a Freighter—that calms the jagged nerves and brings sunshine to the soul.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Folsom, who left Lincoln early in September for a world cruise on the SS "President Arthur," would agree heartily with all of the aforesaid sentiments concerning an ocean voyage. At least they WOULD have agreed heartily until Sunday, Nov. 6 — and here, in Mr. Folsom's own words, is what happened then:

'It' happened day before yesterday morning! — we sailed at 7 a.m. and the passengers went up on the top decks to say "goodbye" to Karachi. Then we went down for breakfast. Right in the middle of the meal there was a terrific crash and impact and the ship listed 10-15 degrees to starboard and didn't right itself. Everything went crashing in the dining-room, the salons and in our rooms. —Our first thought was that we had gone aground — but the galley boys called that another ship had struck us. To the praise of everyone, there was no screaming, no panic. We went to the lounge and could see the large British Mail ship "Daressa" with a bashed in prow (the anchor was embedded in the steel plate of the ship) up against our ship. As she backed away the "Arthur" went back on even keel again. I dashed across the freight deck to the forecastle to see if there were holes in the ship that would sink us and if the men in the crew's mess had been crushed. I found a jagged hole about 35 feet long above the waterline. Praise be, there was a very calm sea, the sky was bright and clear, and in spite of the terrible impact (that curled the steel plate with the heat) there was no fire and the boilers didn't explode.

We dropped anchor and surveyed our damage for a while and checked engines and steam lines. Then we went back to a pier, escorted by Pakistan Navy ships. No one was hurt! There are 14 ribs of very heavy aluminum and seven (6x12) two-inch plates and one water-tight bulkhead to be replaced. — The "Daressa" was coming into the harbor (we had dropped our harbor-pilot as we were out-side the harbor) and was entirely at fault. She carried 1000 passengers. About 50-First-Class, 100 Second Class and the ballance "Deck-passengers," men who get a 2x6 ft. place on the decks (sleeping and cooking on deck in shifts) en route from India to the oilfields in Saudi-Arabia as contract-labor. — We at once had the American President Lines Far East Representative come aboard when we got to the pier and take over the thousand and one matters to be handled.

The scuttle-butt is that we will have about 10 days of temporary repairs here and then go on to Genoa, Italy, for a month of repairs.—An American President Lines "expert" flew in early this morning from S.F. — in the meantime, we are making plans for our stay. We had fished for the hundred and one fish that come along the pier and watched the men come down to wash their little donkeys and camels in the sea.

I'm going in town now with one of the passengers to see the zoo, to see the great new "State Bank" that opened on Saturday with bankers from all over the world here, and to see about getting a boat to go fishing — and to see about a trip by train and plane up north to the Kybur Pass. This afternoon we are having tea with an important General we met at the International Industrial Conference in S.F. —I tried to call Lincoln, yesterday, but the lines were "engaged." The American Embassy will help us, if necessary. We are fine and having fun. P.S. Have just had red-carpet tour of Zoo. —played with baby tiger and three elephants played harmonica for us and picked up change with trunks and gave it back to us.

FUN NEWS IN SUBURBIA

SOUTH HILLS

Introducing—Master Darin Lee DeRock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill L. DeRock, who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital on Nov. 1. Darin Lee came home last Monday evening and, needless to say, his big sister and brothers, Debra, Douglas, Dana, and Davis, are quite excited about the newest member of the family. Darin's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Anderson of National City, Calif., and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louie DeRock of Wymore.

Not every little boy has a birthday the same week that the circus is in town, but Bradley Grell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Grell, was just that lucky as he was seven years old last Wednesday. His birthday guests at the circus were his sister, Marcia, and his cousins, Ruthie and Mark Grell.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Hardekopf for the week end were Mrs. Hardekopf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Manka of Grand Island. Mr. and Mrs. Manka have returned home, but will make a repeat visit this week end to help Mrs. Hardekopf celebrate her birthday.

And we have still another newcomer to the South Hills suburb — Master John Edward Melstrom who arrived on Oct. 27 at Bryan Memorial Hospital. He has an older sister, Debra Kay, and two older brothers, Roger Leo and Michael Ray, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Melstrom. Mrs. George Bach is the baby's maternal grandmother, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Melstrom of Nashua, Mo.

Mrs. Melstrom, incidentally, arrived from Nashua last Monday to visit her new grandson, and will be joined be Mr. Melstrom today.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Gathering at the home of Mrs. John R. Hicks last Thursday night were Mrs. Jim Thorson, Mrs. Bill Fraser, and Mrs. Joe Badami. Undoubtedly there was a great exchange of news going on, but the major portion of the evening was spent in vying for high score in bridge.

HOLLINGSWORTH HEIGHTS

Journeying to Denver, Colo., on Monday will be Mrs. Lumir S. Pucelik. Mrs. Pucelik, who is the president of St. Elizabeth Hospital Auxiliary, will be in Denver to attend the Institute of Volunteer Service for Hospital Auxiliaries at the Hotel Cosmopolitan. She expects to return to Lincoln on Nov. 18.

Trying Nebraska fields for the birds this week are Glenn Peterson, and Ray Hewlitt of Norway, Mich., who are the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Hornbeck. In search of the elusive pheasant, the visitors and Mr. Hornbeck have found their hunting activities ranging over the entire state. Mr. Hewlitt and Mrs. Peterson plan to return to Norway this week end.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

The circus came to town and taking his cue from the event was Steven Connell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Connell, who celebrated his seventh birthday Monday with a clown party. Frolicking with the "clowns" were Steven's brother, James, Michael Thomas, John Lorhrberg, David Newton, Jan Smith, Debbie Andelt, Mary Jo Dietrick, Warren Sasse, Steven Seuss, and Shannan Hickman.

PRAIRIE VALLEY

Bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blomgren last week end involved not only bridge but a midnight snack as well. And enjoying both were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wilcox, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rodgers.

Still unpacking from her long trek through Georgia and other states south of the Mason-Dixon line is Mrs. Marcus H. Cohen, of North Eden Drive. During her three-week trip, Mrs. Cohen visited her mother and sister, Mrs. William Henry Geiger and Mrs. John Alger, of Eustice, Fla. She continued on to Tampa, then to Augusta and Atlanta for visiting with her "southern cousins" before returning to Lincoln.

Plane-ing into San Francisco, last Wednesday were Robert Hudson and his son, Richard, who will enjoy the sights of that fair city for a week or so, while attending a convention there.

Also making use of the circus theme at her birthday party was little Cindy Cederholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dariel Cederholm, who found, much to her surprise and delight, that her cake was a big pink elephant. On hand to aid Cindy in celebrating her fifth birthday and to enjoy the cake were Christy Hansen, Jean Frey, Debbie Reinmuth, and Lucy Harrison.

Incidentally, Cindy's parents are traveling out of town this week end—or, more accurately, out-of-state. Mr. and Mrs. Dariel Cederholm are on a pheasant hunting trip to Ruthven, Iowa, where they are the houseguests of Mrs. Cederholm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hynes. Their guests for the hunting week end are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Pivonka. Cindy, Kathy, and David Cederholm accompanied the adults so they could have a visit with their grandparents.

IN THE SERVICE CIRCLES

BY CAROL MERRELL AND SUE SUND

Hi there! The annual "Husband-Wife" dinner of the International Toastmistress Club, Aksarben Chapter, was held last Tuesday night at the Officers Club. The members, their husbands and guests present to enjoy the most delightful and informative program were Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Maj. and Mrs. H. B. Arnold and their guests Col. and Mrs. Verne Hastings; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Peter L. Coffield and their guest, Mrs. Coffield's mother and Mrs. Berneice Hefner of San Antonio, Tex.; Mrs. L. J. Craft, Maj. and Mrs. Harry D. Dexter and guests Lt. Col. and Mrs. Harold J. Lentz; Capt. and Mrs. James H. Eldridge, Maj. and Mrs. Robert P. Hansen, Capt. and Mrs. Peter W. Kraska, Maj. and Mrs. John C. Mealka, Mrs. Thomas Segasser and her guest Mrs. LaVerne Flaherty; Capt. and Mrs. Merle Young, and Capt. and Mrs. Alfred Merrell.

A most appreciated tribute was presented to the Toastmistresses when their husbands accorded them a standing ovation at the close of the program.

Home from an extended vacation of seven weeks in Vernon, Ala., are Mrs. Jefferson R. Finch and children Mark and Becky. They spent their many days of leisure with Mrs. Finch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reeves and Capt. Finch's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Finch.

Also home from a lovely vacation are Lt. Col. and Mrs. Joe V. Disana. The Disanas' first stop was Phoenix, Ariz., then went on to Tempe, where they visited with Mrs. Fred M. Johnson formerly of LAFB. The travelers said good-bye to Arizona, and went on to Albuquerque, N.M., where they enjoyed the hospitality of friends. A final stopping place was old Mexico where they spent some time before their return home to Lincoln.

Finally settled in their new home at 7111 Englewood Dr., are Capt. and Mrs. Peter W. Kraska and sons Andy, Timmy and Peter, Jr.

Plans are under way for the annual Military Ball to be held on December 8th. Nine finalists selected have been from a group of 38 candidates and the nine, one of which will be chosen for the honor of Honorary Commandant, include Misses Judi Zadina, Pat Johnson, Ruth Ann Read, Jeanne Garner, Maribelle Elliot, Sherry Foster, Diann Cabela, Vicky Cullen and Kathy Madsen.

The Ball, a tradition of the ROTC at the University of Nebraska, is in charge of the Air Force ROTC this year. Each of the finalists is appearing each morning on the Wayne West Morning Show on KOLN-TV.

Friday was the day of departure for Capt. and Mrs. John Knight who will be visiting both sets of parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Tate and Mr. and Mrs. James Knight in North Carolina.

On Wednesday afternoon at 12:30 p.m. the monthly luncheon of the Officers Wives club was held at the Officers Club.

The luncheon was given this month by the wives of the 371st Bomb Squadron. Guest speaker for the afternoon program was Mrs. Katherine von Gillern, whose topic was interior decorating.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Darlene Simons, guest of Mrs. Glen V. Van Zee and Mrs. T. R. Turner, mother-in-law of Mrs. Thomas A. Turner.

Also presented were several LAFB newcomers including Barbara Fenimore, Helen Chapman, Loretta Bowersock, Florence Olsen, Terry Wratten, Mary Upton, Andrea D'Angelo, Arlene Weis, Joan Albertson, Marilyn Blue, Doris Mueller, Lillian Peterson, Elsebert Kroger, and associate member Millie Thompson.

Next on our agenda this week is a 344th Bomb Squadron dinner party which will be held tonight at the Officers Club to honor Maj. and Mrs. Dwight E. Carnahan who have been transferred to the 818th Air Division.

Special guests invited are Col. and Mrs. James T. Gribble, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Raymond Gottner, Col. Philip O. Robertson, Lt. Col. James D. Kelly, the new squadron commander, and Mrs. Jelley and Maj. John Powers, operations officer, and Mrs. Powers.

A dessert bridge party was given last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Alfred L. Merrell. Composing the three tables were Mrs. Peter T. Nichols, Mrs. Merle Young, Mrs. Jon Igleman, Mrs. William Carrier, Mrs. Jefferson Finch, Mrs. Noble S. Timmons, Mrs. Richard Coon, Mrs. Willis Eastabrooks, Mrs. Robert Walsh, Mrs. Vern Miller, and Mrs. Robert P. Harrington.

Winning high, low and traveling prizes were Mrs. Carrier, Mrs. Igleman, and Mrs. Walsh respectively.

Before I sign off this morning, I would like to remind you that today is Veterans Day and ask that all of you observe a moment of gratitude to those members of the military service who gave their lives in the defense of their country.

Have a nice weekend, and see you next week!

Dear Abby

It Pays To Be Polite

DEAR ABBY: What can a 13-year-old girl do about parents who expect her to be polite to them, but who say, "Do the dishes or you'll get your head knocked off!"?

I try hard to please them and I don't mind helping with the housework, but can't they say, "Will you please?"

"MISS TREATED"

DEAR MISS TREATED": It's a pity more parents don't realize the wonders to be worked through common courtesy with their youngsters. But don't YOU try to teach them, Honey. Just remember it when you have children of your own.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have a little problem with a mother-in-law who means well but it not as understanding as she could be. She is a "saver" and has saved all my husband's clothes since he was a small boy. That was 29 years ago. We now have a son who is almost five, and my mother-in-law insists on giving me all my husband's old clothes for my son to wear. They are as good as new, but the styles are old-fashioned, and I don't want to dress my boy that way. We are not rich, but we can afford to buy clothes for our son. My husband doesn't want to hurt his mother and neither do I, but how can we avoid it?

MY PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: Accept them graciously, and then quietly pass them on to the Red Cross or the Salvation Army for folks who are more concerned with keeping their bodies covered than being stylishly dressed.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have been courting a widow for about ten years. She keeps saying she can't marry me until her daughter gets married. Her daughter is 29 years old and hasn't even got a boy friend. My friends tell me that this woman is just using her daughter as an excuse, and has no intention of marrying me. I am 64, own my own home and am in good health. I want to get married. Should I wait around for this widow who is playing hard to get? Or should I give someone else a chance? I have a couple of women in mind who would say yes tomorrow.

TEN-YEAR STALL

DEAR TEN: After enduring a ten-year stall, I'd give the lady about ten minutes to make her mind up. Then give someone else a chance.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My sister's husband's name is CHARLES VINCENT SMITH. They named their son CHARLES PATRICK SMITH. Everyone calls the boy "Junior." I say that in order for him to be an honest-to-goodness "Junior," his name should be exactly the same as his father's—CHARLES VINCENT SMITH. My sister says I am mistaken. Am I?

KNOW I'M RIGHT

DEAR KNOW: You ARE right.

WHY GROW OLD?

Some women miss beauty by just a neck. Try this exercise which Josephine Lowman describes in her column today.

When a woman sticks her neck out, she is asking for trouble! The chinline is one of the very first spots to herald the passing of early youth, and poor posture certainly speeds the process.

Too often a face looks 30 or 40 and a neck 50 or 60, both owned by the same woman.

If you collapse at the base of the neck and carry your chin forward, you will get deep creases in the neck and stretch the muscles under the chin, thus causing the blurred outline of a middle-aged neck. If the muscles have become relaxed and the neck creased because of poor posture, you CAN do something about it. You can exercise tone into the muscles and arrest the crease by improving the way you hold your head. Try the following:

Stand tall. Drop your head forward toward the chest. Place a ruler at the back of the neck, one end at the base of the skull. Raise the head very slowly, trying to press each individual vertebra against the ruler. Hold for a few seconds and then relax. Drop the head forward and continue.

Try to hold the head in the position it takes when each vertebra or most vertebra are touching the ruler.

Of course if you are overweight, a double chin or several double chins will spoil your neckline. Lose the extra pounds and do the following exercise: Lower the head backward as far as comfortable. Keep the head in this position while you chew in an exaggerated manner. Raise head. Rest. Continue.

If you would like to have my exercises for the chinline, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10 in care of this newspaper. Address Josephine Lowman.

Opening lead—ten of clubs.

When you are defending a hand and see that declarer is following a line of play that will lead him to defeat, you ought to do everything in your power not to divert him from that course.

Here is an exceptional hand where West made a fine defensive play that caused declarer to go down in three no trump. He led the ten of clubs and declarer won it in dummy with the queen, East showing interest in the suit by playing the six.

West noted that South dropped the jack on the queen, and concluded, reasonably enough, that South had probably started with the K-J alone.

West also saw, from looking at dummy's hand and his own that South could make five spade tricks if he had as many as two spades.

So when declarer led the jack of diamonds from dummy at trick two and played low from his hand, West took the trick with the ace!

West's unusual play was made with the idea of persuading South that East had the queen of diamonds.

West led another club, the ace and king falling together on the trick. Declarer then played the ten of diamonds.

When East followed low, he naturally finessed against the queen by playing low. It was hard for declarer to imagine that West would win the first diamond trick with the ace when he could have won it with the queen.

So West made his queen of diamonds, cashed three club tricks, and the contract went down one.

But suppose West had taken the first diamond lead with the queen and returned a club. Declarer would then have recognized the futility of continuing with diamonds, since this was bound to lead to the loss of at least three clubs and two diamonds, and would probably have shifted his attention to spades. This would have permitted him to make five spade tricks and the contract.

West realized early that South was on the wrong track in attacking diamonds and kept him on it by means of a clever falsecard.

BRIDES

A December bride-elect is Miss Ellen Brown of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown of Scottsbluff, who is revealing plans this morning for her approaching wedding.

For her marriage to Alvin Svoboda of Pender, which will be solemnized on Sunday, Dec. 17, at the First Methodist Church in Scottsbluff, Miss Brown has chosen Miss Suzanne Merryman of Lincoln as her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be her nieces, Miss Mavis Brown and Miss Peg Brown, both of Mitchell.

Ivan Svoboda of Pender will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will be Delmer Brown of Montrose, Colo., and Harlan Brown, Mitchell, both brothers of the bride-to-be, and Bobby Brown, also of Mitchell.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Brown, Miss Merryman and Miss Eunice Welch entertained at their home on Thursday evening. Twenty guests were invited to the informal party and presented a linen shower to the honoree.

Announcing the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Elane Ackland, whose marriage to John Kucera, Jr., a senior at the University of Nebraska, will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 22.

Miss Dorothy Fox of Geneva will attend Miss Ackland as maid of honor for the 9 o'clock morning service, which will be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral. The flower girl will be Sara Zank, and Steve Ackland of Geneva, will be his aunt's ringbearer.

Serving as best man will be Bob Snell, and the ushers will be Lawrence Ackland of Geneva, brother of the bride-elect, and Louis Svec, Milligan.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to the soon-to-be bride, a miscellaneous shower was given last week by a group of fellow employes of Miss Ackland. Hostesses included Mrs. Robert Ward, Mrs. Emil Donscheski, Mrs. Melvin Kurpjuweit, Mrs. John Mills and Mrs. Ed Virus.

Chatter in the Corridor

BY MOLLY DOW

Southeast soon will be visited by the Honorable King of Siam and his 67 children in the performance of "The King and I." This will be Southeast's first attempt at a Broadway musical and we are sure it will be a practically professional performance under the direction of John Cole.

Leads for the show will be Bill Mowbray, as the King of Siam and Linda Deland as the governess, Anna. Romantic leads will be played by Ellen Granata as Tuptim; Rollie Hinze as Lun Tha; Donna Gillespie as the King's head wife, Lady Thiang, and Dee Lofgreen as Kralahome. Kent Gerlach will play Ann's son Louis, and Ken Maxwell will play Captain Orton.

Mrs. Margaret Cheuvront, English teacher, and Tom Keene, Debate coach, will give help in acting and speaking. Students from the advanced choir will sing in choruses of wives, children, slaves, monks, Amazons and palace guards, and Kay Christiansen will be featured as the dancer in the Uncle Tom's Cabin scene.

Art and shop classes will help put on the show, which will be presented Nov. 27, 28, and 29th, by making the scenery. Kay Morris is business manager for the production and will handle all financial details.

We Hear That

Arriving in Linccoln on Friday to be the weekend house guest of the Alpha Omricron Pi sorority at the University of Nebraska was Mrs. Ruth Elledge of Kansas City, Kan., collegiate director of the sorority.

NU Dames Greet Newcomers

The University of Nebraska Dames greeted nearly 60 new members Thursday evening at a program and reception held in the auditorium of the First Continental National Bank. An organization for the wives of university students, the club sponsors many diversified activities for its members.

Girl Scouts

Eight Girl Scouts were honored on Friday evening at a Court of Awards held at Fairhill Presbyterian Church for scouts and their parents.

Those honored received their Curved Bar Awards, the highest presented in Girl Scouting.

Members of Troop 120, of which Mrs. L. S. Hoffman is leader, the award recipients were Phyllis Bomberger, Claudia Davis, Sondra Lutgen, Linda Morrison, Barbara Stoughton, Jean Wickless, Jeanette Hoffman and Connie Zitterkopf.

About the Peace Race
Methodist proposals for a "peace race" are aimed at finding an alternative to the "better dead than red" dilemma which many Americans are wrestling with today.
Reading for Children
Many new and attractive books for youngsters have been published this fall. A sampling of them may help you in your Christmas buying.
Why Christmas Seals?
Because tuberculosis has proved to be a very stubborn enemy. Research indicates new tools will help eradicate it; an intermediate goal is a big reduction.
Little Rock Redevelops
The Arkansas capital city has nearly $50 million in urban redevelopment projects completed or in some stage of work. This is the second in a series of reports on urban renewal at work.

'Liberal Studies Add Meaning To Lives Of Quiet Desperation'

By ROGER WAIT
Star Staff Writer

Liberal education can add meaning to the "proverbial lives of quiet desperation" which modern adults lead, Dr. Alan Bates said Friday evening.

Chairman of the University of Nebraska sociology department, Dr. Bates gave the opening talk at the Great Plains Conference on Liberal Education for Adults.

The gathering at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education is being attended by 24 deans and professors in liberal arts colleges of 9 Midwestern universities.

Dr. Bates said that "a greater effort is needed to communicate with people whose backgrounds are so much like our own."

'Great Audience'

The common American adult, he added, may or may not know that he needs "intellectual nourishment," but he is part of "a great audience" to whose lives "the arts and sciences can add richness and significance."

Dr. Bates urged the deans not to put themselves in an academic rut by limiting liberal adult education "to people like ourselves."

He asserted: "The liberal studies have something vital to contribute to the lives of everybody," no matter where a person lives—"hamlet or big city, exurbia or downtown elevator apartment, public housing project or ethnic slum."

'Must Meet People'

A fact that must be faced, Dr. Bates declared, is that "we must meet people as they are, and where they are."

Dean Walter Militzer of NU's College of Arts and Sciences, presiding at the conference, labelled liberal adult education a problem which "is not going to get any less; it's going to get bigger."

Dr. Albin T. Anderson, NU history professor, said the deans ought to play down such sociological factors as people's ethnic backgrounds and religion and should go "preach the liberal message inherent in the arts and sciences."

Nu's Extension director, Dr. Knute O. Broady, noted that American education has produced highly varied results and urged broadening and deepening the "superficial acquaintance" most Americans have with many subjects.

'Dismayed'

Dr. Carl Schneider, NU political science department chairman, was asked how many college graduates have a real liberal education. He replied:

"I am dismayed. The end result is not what we would call a liberal education."

Dr. Seth Russell, liberal arts dean at North Dakota State University in Fargo, cautioned the deans to "beware snob appeal" in jumping too deeply into liberal adult education.

He wondered: "What's in it?"

Dean Militzer observed: "It's deucedly hard to define liberal education, but the goal of an adult program should be to enable adults to make informed decisions in current affairs."

State Department's Money Squeeze To Hit 500 Hands

Washington (AP)—The State Department's multi-million dollar financial squeeze was reduced to human terms this week. Beginning next Wednesday about 500 or more employes will get dismissal notices.

Officials said the "terminations," as they are called in government jargon, will become effective early in the new year. They also said arrangements are being made to provide employment for the 500 whenever possible in other government agencies.

The extensive dismissals, affecting the department's force of about 7,200 people here, were ordered because of a shortage of funds for salary payments.

Deputy Undersecretary Roger W. Jones announced in mid-October that cuts would be required because Congress had provided for various reasons about $10 million less than the approximately $219 million the department hoped to have this fiscal year for operating purposes.

Officials said many readjustments will be necessary as a result, and that morale is suffering under the impact of reductions that run throughout the department's staff.

Officials in the administrative bureau said they did not know what the final figure for dismissals would be but that at least 500 persons will get notices in the two weeks between Nov. 15 and Dec. 1.

One result may be a reorganization of the department's Office of Security responsible for protecting the secretary of state, foreign visitors and U.S. embassies as well as checking on the security of departmental employes.

The security staff of roughly 150 officers will be cut by 25 positions.

William O. Boswell, director of the security office, has denied a published report that the cut of 20 positions out of 100 in the Washington security office would endanger the national security.

Frontier Trail Is Planned As Tourist Boon

A special assistant to Gov. Frank Morrison told Friday of a planned "Frontier Trail" that will be a boon to Nebraska's campaign to attract tourists.

John C. Kelley, speaking to social workers at a statewide institute in the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education, explained the scenic and historic trial would enter the state at Omaha, go through Macy and Winnebago, then through the Dakotas before coming back through the Sand hills and rejoining Highway 30.

Among the planners of the route, he said, are oil companies and a major camera firm. The weight of their national advertising would be thrown behind publicity for the trail.

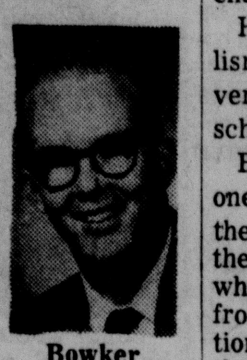
Kelley said there had been a distinct change in attitude of Nebraskans toward their state in the last 7 months. "We are dusting off Nebraska," he said, referring to the promotion of tourist sites and historic monuments.

He is coordinator of state development and has done much work in promoting tourism.

The institute for social workers concluded Friday after two days of workshops. Nearly 300 persons from 60 counties attended.

Outstanding State DeMolay Title Goes To Kearney Youth

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI) — Stanley K. Bowker of Kearney has been selected as the outstanding De Molay in Nebraska, it was announced here.



Bowker

He will be awarded a distinguished service medal, the De Molay symbol of superior ability and accomplishment in good citizenship. It is awarded 3 times a year to one DeMolay member in a jurisdiction.

Bowker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bowker, is a member of the Fort Kearny DeMolay chapter, and is a past master councilor, the chapter's highest office.

He was awarded a journalism scholarship to the University of Nebraska for the school year 1960-1961.

Bowker is now eligible for one of 3 finalist positions in the international "DeMolay of the year" competition, in which 3 finalists are selected from DeMolay's 74 jurisdictions in 12 countries for further honors.

Bed Too Crowded

Milwaukee, Wis. (UPI) — Judge Robert W. Hansen granted a divorce to Mrs. Wilhelmina De Jonge after she charged that her husband, Maurice, insisted on taking the family dog and his former wife's picture to bed with them.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

"Son of man, whenever I doubt of life I think of Thee." So wrote George Matheson in his blindness.

Whenever you and I doubt either God or man, we would do well to think of Jesus. His cross is a symbol of what God is and what we may become. The proud Roman at the foot of the cross said, "This man was the son of God."

Jesus was supremely a man of faith. He had great faith in both God and man. We have faith in God largely because we must have Him. We are not sufficient unto ourselves. Do you have faith? Life becomes a radiant thing for people of faith, since they see so much deeper into the secrets of life. The universe opens its heart to eyes of faith; closed doors swing ajar when faithful steps approach; loving spirits smile their welcome to trustworthy souls; latent powers blossom in the presence of fidelity; young children and wise old age give themselves with abandon to those who offer confidence. God waits to share His blessings on men who can be trusted. Of the Pilgrims of yesterday, guided by the Divine, it was said, "They were men of faith and very sure of God." Are you sure of God?

So They May See — Psalm 19 — So They May Hear

THE HEAVENS DECLARE the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork.

2. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3. There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.

4. Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5. Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

6. His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

7. The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple.

THE STATUTES of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.

9. The fear of the Lord is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether.

10. More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.

11. Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.

12. Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults.

13. Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.

14. Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. NU Underdog To Iowa State's Single Wing

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Ames, Ia. — Nebraska's Cornhsukers get their first and only look this year at the power-packed single wing this afternoon at Iowa State's Clyde Williams Field and they're a one touchdown underdog.

Clay Stapleton, a soft-talking Tennesseean who swears by the single wing, has added a good many jazz refinements to his bread-and-butter formation, meaning the Cornhuskers will have their hands full.

Nebraska managed to eke out a 7-6 win in Stapleton's first season, 1958, but the Cyclones have waltzed the past two seasons.

Pivotal Game

The contest shapes up as an important one for both clubs. Nebraska, now 2-4-1 for the season and 1-3 in the Big 8, must win its last 3 games to post a winning record and the Huskers must get by the Cyclones to keep alive any first-division hopes.

Iowa State is 4-3, currently 4th place in the loop one notch ahead of the Huskers, and can just about clinch its 3rd straight first-division finish with a victory today.

There's a personal flavor to the contest, too, since it matches the Big 8's No. 1 ground-gainer and nation's total offense leader—Cyclone Dave Hoppmann — against Bill (Thunder) Thornton, the No. 2 rusher in the conference.

Rudy, Willie Out

Both clubs are nursing normal mid-season bruises, but the Cornhuskers are going to be minus half their starting backfield—fullback Rudy Johnson and right halfback Willie Ross, both at home with hurts.

However, Dennis Stuewe is available at right half, with tri-captain Pat Clare and Warren Powers in reserve. And Thornton has been groomed for fullback chores, should alternate buster Bill Comstock get benched.

So the NU backfield situation is not desperate, although it is weakened.

Several Cyclones, including All-Big 8 guard Dan Celoni, are returning to action after missing the Boston College game last week.

Regardless of how the personnel are stacked by either coach today, the contests shapes up as a donnybrook between two teams that skidded fast after an early sprint.

Both were unbeaten after 3 games (NU had a tie), but the Huskers have dropped 4 straight—while being outscored 80-18—and the Cyclones have lost 3 of their last 4. Their lone win was a 31-17 licking of Kansas State, which Nebraska handled 24-0.

Crowd Worries

Officials are worried about the crowd, which has seldom been sufficient to meet expenses for the Huskers on their trips here.

Statewide interest has been generated over the Iowa-Minnesota game in Iowa City this afternoon—and it will be televised in Des Moines.

At best, however, the gate should run between 15,000 to 20,000.

HUSKER FROSH WIN 18-13

...McCloughan, Tucker Sink Kittens

Manhattan, Kan. — Nebraska's freshman football team battled back from a 13-12 fourth quarter deficit behind the tremendous running of Kent McCloughan and the precise passing of Doug Tucker to overcome Kansas State's yearlings 18-13 here Friday afternoon.

The winning score came on a 35-yard jaunt by McCloughan, with 5:21 left. The 190-pound halfback from Broken Bow gave the K-State frosh fits all afternoon as he amassed 139 yards in 17 carries.

McCloughan nearly got another touchdown before the final gun. He ran 10 yards to the Kittens' one-foot line on the last play of the game.

Tucker 8-13

Tucker, 5 5-11, 170-pound quarterback from Davenport, Ia., led the Husker passing attack as he connected on 8 of 13 attempts for 104 yards and two touchdowns.

Tucker's first TD aerial came on the closing play of the first half when he hit halfback Gary Graham, Ravenna, from 19 yards out for the score.

The Husker PAT effort failed on a placement.

Tucker's passing again paid off in the second half when he hit end Bob Lockwood from Beatrice for a 9-yard score to put the Nebraskans in a 12-7 advantage.

The Wild-Kittens regained control early in the final period when Doug Dusenbury, K-State quarterback, got the second touchdown on a 2-yard sneak. Dusenbury picked up the other K-State counter before halftime on a 4-yard plunge.

But from there on out the Huskers were in complete control as a sustained drive consuming 6 minutes precluded McCloughan's game-winning dash and only the lack of time denied the young Huskers from another touchdown.

Nebraska's ground attack was borne by the running of McCloughan. who accounted for all but 28 yards of NU's 167 total.

The game closed the season for both yearling clubs with the Nebraska record standing at 1-1 and K'-State's mark ending at 0-2.

RED-CARPET TREATMENT

World heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson signs Toronto's guest book as he gets an official welcome to the city from Mayor Nathan Phillips Friday. Patterson took up training quarters at the suburban New Woodbine racetrack. He'll defend his title in Toronto Dec. 4, against Tom McNeeley of Boston in Canada's first world heavyweight championship fight.

Texas Proves Its Worth, Minnesota-Iowa On TV

...TODAY'S COLLEGE FOOTBALL HEADLINERS

By Associated Press

Texas' stampeding Longhorns set out today to prove that they are worthy of their No. 1 ranking among the nation's college football teams. They tangle with a stubborn Baylor team that has crushed such dreams in the past.

Rebounds?

And Michigan State and Mississippi, a pair of fallen giants in last week's upheaval, hope to begin the climb back.

In between, Alabama, Ohio State and Louisiana State enjoy the luxury of being favorites in their games, as do Colorado, Georgia Tech and Missouri.

Minnesota, not about to give up its national championship, has the toughest job of the take on a swift Iowa team, which has lost two in a row, in the Big 10's premier game.

Baylor Better

Texas, led by halfback Jimmy Saxton, throws it overwhelming offense and a stingy defense at the improving Baylor Bears, who are just getting back into stride after early season injuries.

The Longhorns, leading the nation in offense with a mighty 431 yards average, are 7-0 overall and lead the Southwest Conference with a 4-0 mark as they head toward the host spot in the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day.

Minnesota's battle against Iowa, whom it beat a year ago for the trip to the Rose Bowl, the national championship and only a share of the Big 10 title, will be televised regionally by ABC. The Gophers upset Michigan State a week ago, then the nation's top team.

Spartans Pressed

The Spartans (No. 6) will have a tough job with Purdue, which upset Iowa two weeks ago. Michigan State, 3-1 in the Big 10 still has a potent rushing attack that the Boilermakers (4-2) must overcome.

Ohio State (No. 3), the other Big 10 member in the elite, is heavily favored to whip Indiana (1-5). The Buckeyes and Minnesota share the conference lead with 4-0 marks, with Rose Bowl talk becoming prevalent.

Ole Miss (No. 7), its 21-games without a loss a thing of the past after losing 10-7 a week ago to LSU, should recoup against little Chattanooga while second-ranked Alabama, leading the Southeastern Conference with a 5-0 mark, is expected to coast against Richmond (4-4).

LSU, Tech Games

LSU (No. 4) plays North Carolina (4-2), co-leader in the Atlantic Coast Conference while Georgia Tech (No. 9) has an SEC date against Tennessee.

In the Big 8, Colorado (No. 8) is outside against Utah, putting its 7-0 mark on the line. Missouri (No. 10), the Buffalos' victims a week ago play Oklahoma (1-5) in a conference game.

Wyoming, co-leader of the Skyline Conference, plays its season's windup against New Mexico. That game, and the Ivy League clash between leader Princeton (4-0) and Harvard (3-1) are the only other serious conference activity outside the top 10. Second place Columbia (4-1) and Dartmouth (3-1) also meet in the Ivy League.

Oyster Bowl

Duke, the other ACC co-leader, plays Navy in the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk, Va., while Utah State, the other Skyline giant, is outside against Western Michigan.

UCLA, 2-0 in the Big 5 played Friday night, and Southern California, 1-0-1, can tie today if it beats Stanford (0-2).

Rutgers (6-0), the nation's other undefeated team, meets Delaware while Notre Dame is at Pitt, Penn State at West Virginia, North Carolina State at Maryland, Kansas State at Kansas, Arkansas at Rice and Wisconsin at Northwestern in other top games.

24 Teams Considered For Rose Bowl Fray

San Francisco (AP) — Two dozen top collegiate football teams remain under consideration for the Rose Bowl game with no decision expected until after the host Big 5 Conference ends its season Nov. 25.

Feelers have been sent to several of these insitutions. Not all schools under consideration have received feelers.

The top team in the Big 5 goes to the Rose Bowl as the host. Technically even this selection comes on a vote of the schools — UCLA, Southern California, Washington, California and Stanford.

Amid rumors and queries, executive director Thomas J. Hamilton of the Athletic Association of Western Universities (Big 5) said Friday:

"Our people have a policy and we're following it. There has been conjecture that assumes a lot that I don't think has transpired. Our policy is to choose the opponent of the AAWU representative from among the outstanding teams in the entire nation."

Hamilton said a panel of 30 prospective teams have been submitted by the Big 5 schools and added, "about 6 have eliminated themselves as events of the season went on."

That leaves 24. Asked when the vote will be taken to determine which team is invited, the executive director replied, "it probably will be after we have selected our representative and that will be after the games of Nov. 25."

Until last year, the Big 10 and Western teams had contracts under which the conference champions met in the Rose Bowl. Although the pact expired, Minnesota was selected as Washington's foe last January under the new policy of inviting a top club from throughtout the nation.

This year's selection might again be from the Big 10 although at least 4 clubs in Dixie are under consideration. No official list of Rose Bowl prospects has been announced. Georgia Tech, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana State were said to be among those on it.

The UCLA-Southern California battle in Los Angeles Nov. 25 probably will determine the West's representative. The two teams currently are one, two in the conference.

AMERSON, BARNES JOBS:

Handle Shofner, McDonald

New York (AP)—Can rookie Glen Amerson handle Del Shofner? Can Erich Barnes stop Tommy McDonald?

These are vital questions to be answered Sunday when the Philadelphia Eagles risk their one-game Eastern Conference lead against the New York Giants in an important National Football League game, before 60,000 plus fans at Yankee Stadium.

Amerson, a pro freshman from Texas Tech, takes over at defensive right halfback for Tom Brookshier, all-league pick of 1960 is out with a fractured leg. Among the duties of the defensive back on the right side is to handle Shofner, the Giants' best receiver who is especially dangerous on the long touchdown pass.

Coach Nick Skorich of the Eagles expects to start Amerson but, just in case, he signed veteran Carl Taseff, a free agent cut loose by Baltimore after 12 years of service.

Taseff does not have Amerson's speed but he has the experience that may be needed in a tight to-the-vest game.

Barnes, the Giants' defensive halfback on the left side, probably will get the job of trying to cover McDonald, the Eagles' great pass catching halfback. This will be the toughest test for Barnes, who came to the Giants this year from the Chicago Bears.

Up front there should be a battle royal with Chuck Bednarik in the center of the Eagles' offensive line and Sam Huff, the fans' favorite at Yankee Stadium, playing middle linebacker on defense.

Sonny Jurgensen, Norm Van Brocklin's successor as quarterback for the league champion Eagles, suffered a toe injury two weeks ago. Reports from Philadelphia indicate he and Bobby Walston, injured end and place kicker will be ready.

Joe Morrison, injured Giant halfback, also is due

Ord Tops Aurora On Extra Point

Ord — The extra point proved all-important here Friday night as Ord edged Aurora, 13-12. The first Aurora PAT try was blocked and the second bounced back after striking the crossbar between the goal posts.

The victorious Chanticleers garnered their touchdowns after sustained marches with Ken Timmerman scoring one and Allen Cetak the other.

Aurora's first-quarter score came on a 50-yard pass play from Doug Salmon to George Parsons. Gene George ran 13 yards for the other TD.

Aurora	6	0	6	0	—12
Ord	0	7	6	0	—13

Aurora: TDs—George Parsons (50, pass from Doug Salmon); Gene George (13, run).

Ord: TDs—Ken Timmerman (3, run); Allen Cetak (2, run). PAT—Charles Fox (kick).

White Is NAIA District Champ

Doane's Dean White won the District 11 NAIA individual cross country title Friday at Park Valley Golf course.

Kearney took the team title with 27 to Wesleyan's 58. Chadron and Wayne were 3rd and 4th with 67 and 79 respectively. White ran a 21:24 over the 4 mile course.

How they finished:
1, White (D) 21:24; 2, Shubert, Kearney; 3, Wiedel, Kearney; 4, Huck, Chadron; 5, Katger, Wayne; 6, Songster, Doane; 7, M. ALONGI-LOGAN FIGHT ON TAB

New York (AP)—Tony Alongi, a 6-5 unbeaten heavyweight from Hollywood, Fla., risks his 27-fight winning streak tonight against George Logan of Boise, Idaho, at Madison Square Garden.

The Alongi-Logan match is only one of 3 10-rounders on the card, each involving an undefeated heavyweight prospect. The Alongi-Logan bout will be carried on network (ABC) television, starting at 9 p.m. (CST).

Luther, Waldorf In 20-20 Deadlock

Lincoln Star Special

Wahoo—Luther College and Waldorf College of Forest City, Iowa tied 20-20 in a junior college football game here Friday afternoon.

Dallas Luthy was the offensive star for the Vikings tallying two touchdowns on runs of 1 and 5 yards while gaining 100 yards on the ground.

Vernon Breakfield scored the other Luther touchdown on a 7 yard run after he had intercepted a Waldorf pass to put the Vikes on the Waldorf 15.

Waldorf	6	0	7	7	—20
Luther	0	7	7	6	—20

Waldorf: TDs, Pierce (21, pass from Tonheim); Nykreim (16, pass from Sweeden; 6, run). PATs, Pierce 2 (passes from Pierce).

Luther: TDs, Luthy 2 (5, 1 runs); Breakfield (7, run). PATs, Tony Kensik 2 (kicks).

YMCA FOOTBALL

Lincoln 4th, 5th and 6th grade YMCA members will be squaring off the next 3 Saturdays in the debut of the GRA-Y football program sponsored by the Northeast Branch of the YMCA.

Nine games will be played today at Nebraska Wesleyan practice field to initiate the program and 9 on each of the following two Saturdays.

A Long Rivalry For Papa Bear

. . . 87TH PACKER GAME

Chicago (AP)—In 1921, a trim, square-jawed chap, fresh out of the University of Illinois and fresher out of the Navy, directed the Chicago Bears to 20-0 victory over the Green Bay Packers.

That was in the first season of the National Football League. Now the same man, George S. Halas, on Sunday —40 years and 86 games later in pro football's oldest rivalry —will send his Bears against the Packers again, no less fiercely imbued with desire for victory.

The Bears must win this game to tie Green Bay for the Western Conference lead in the NFL race at 6-3, thus forcing, at long last, a renewal of a title vendetta that over the years wrote some of pro football's greatest (and most bitter) history.

Papa Taciturn

Halas, past the retirement age of men in other pursuits, has approached Sunday's sell-out Wrigley Field battle in his usual taciturn, cautious manner.

No threats to avenge a 24-0 shutout at Green Bay Oct. 1, no boasts the Bears will pick up where Baltimore left off in last Sunday's 45-21 pasting of the Packers.

Instead, Halas has plunged more feverishly than ever into his 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. day of huddling with his coaches, snapping orders at his practicing Bears, and scheming, scheming, scheming.

"Just say we hope not to make the same mistakes against the Packers we did earlier at Green Bay where our erratic passing hurt us," said Halas.

Faithful Feuding

All through the years, Halas has feuded faithfully and doggedly with the Packers, against whom he personally has directed the Bears in 65 games.

He missed some 20 games in brief periods when he yielded to Ralph Jones and Paddy Driscoll and was in World War II Navy service. The venerable Bear-Packer series now stands with the Bears ahead 50 to 29 with 6 ties.

Perhaps the peak of Bear-Packer rivalry came in the early 1940's—a span of 4 successive seasons when the Bears, led by Sid Luckman and George McAfee, always just shaded the Green Bay with its fabled Cecil Isbell-Don Hutson passing combination.

From 1940 through 1943, the Bears finished first and the Packers second in the Western Division.

Playoffs

In 1941, the Bears and Packers wound up in a 10-1 tie for first, but the Bears won the divisional playoff 33-14. Halas was in service when, in 1944, the Packers finally cracked the Bear reign to win the sectional and their last NFL title.

No. Platte Captures Big 10 Playoff, 12-0

...WACHHOLTZ OUTRUNS HASTINGS

BY MIKE COONEY
Star Sports Writer

North Platte—North Platte, sparked by the running of little Larry Wachholtz, scored a stunning upset over Hastings in the Big 10 Conference play-off here Friday afternoon.

The final score was 12-0 in one of the bigger upsets of the 1961 Nebraska prep grid season. Hastings won 32-7 in an earlier meeting.

Wachholtz, a slender 150-pound halfback, scored both Platter touchdowns while amassing 173 rushing yards in 16 carries. In addition he picked up 55 yards on 3 punt returns to keep Hastings on the run all afternoon.

The slim junior turned in a sparkling performance from the opening gun.

Quick TD

On the first Platter play for scrimmage, he broke over his own right guard and raced 43 yards to the Hastings 35. After Pete Tatman picked up two yards inside tackle, Wachholtz danced 33 yards down the sidelines for paydirt to lead with 3:56 remaining in the first quarter.

That early tally was all the Bulldogs needed to chalk up a second Big 10 championship before an overflow crowd of 4500 on this sunlit afternoon.

The final Platter touchdown came with just over 1 minute showing on the scoreboard clock. Wachholtz also got the second touchdown, a one-yard dive over guard climaxing a 78-yard drive.

Little Larry started the drive with a 34-yard burst up the middle on a trap play.

The Platter touchdowns came on their only serious drives of the game. Hastings moved the ball well between the 20-yard lines, but couldn't push across a score.

With Jack Giddings bearing the brunt of the attack, the Tigers moved inside the North Platte 30, but each time lost the ball on downs.

Tatman, Gary Scheets, and Gene Jones led a North Platte defense that got tougher each time Hastings crossed midfield.

Tom Smith, a rugged end, and Bob Priebe stood out in the Hastings line.

The defeat in the play-offs was the second in as many years for Coach Ollie Smith's Tigers. McCook won a 15-13 thriller from Hastings last fall.

The victory brought Coach George Redding a Big 10 championship in his first year at the North Platte helm. The Platters finished the season with a 6-2-2 record.

Snead's $60,000 Backs New Par-Three Plan

New York (UPI) — Slammin' Sammy Snead, the first man to make one million out of golf and save two, looked forlorn as he handed over his personal check for $60,000.

"That's how much I believe in this thing," drawled the mountain man. "I'm taking hard cash out of my little tin box to invest in it."

"It" is a new corporation of which he is president and which will build a string of par 3 golf courses across the nation.

There is a suspicion of some strength that this did not pauperize Sam, who now becomes president of Sam Snead All-American Golf, Inc.

He has "connections" with 6 golf courses, is summer pro at the plush Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., and winter pro at Boca Raton, Fla.; owns two golf schools, endorses a line of golf clubs which sell like grandma's hot cakes, further endorses such items as shirts, hats, shoes, slacks and patent medicines and still picks up a fat bit of loot annually in television appearances, tournaments and exhibitions.

His income is reputed to be in the fancy neighborhood of $200,000 a year and it is a matter of cold record that Sam is golf's all-time leading money winner with better than $442,000 since 1937.

As a man of means, Samuel Jackson will leave Dec. 1 for a Kenya safari.

Elephants, Etc.

"I want to get me one of them big old elephants," he explained. "And I want to fish in Lake Rudolf for one of those 180-pound Nile perch."

Entering the par 3 field seems strange in view of the fact that it was on such a course, at Palm Beach, Fla., last winter, that he lost a mixed tournament to Louise Suggs. But Sam is not one to let sentiment stand in the way of profit.

"Golf is bigger than ever now," he asserted. "The par 3 course is the answer because the big courses are too far from metropolitan centers. We can put in lights and the customers can play all day and all night, too. And at anywhere from $1.50 to $3 a round, man, that's money."

Sam's face glowed as he went into a trance-like state while doing mental arithmetic.

"You don't have to be Tarzan to play on a par 3 course," he added. "You can almost crawl around them. And when they're lighted for night play, we can have leagues just like in bowling."

Detroit Hurts Villanova Hopes, 20-6

Detroit (AP)—Underdog Detroit, with stand-in Ron Bishop hurling a pair of second half touchdown passes, put a crimp in Villanova's bowl hopes Friday night with a 20-6 intersectional victory.

Bishop, making his first start because of Jerry Gross' ankle injury, snapped a halftime tie by leading the Titans on two long touchdown drives. The sophomore climaxed the marches with 19 and 35 yard scoring passes to John Lower.

Detroit stunned Villanova when George Walkosky returned the opening kickoff 88 yards for a touchdown.

Major Leaguers From Cuba Are Threatened

New York (AP) — Minnie Minosa, Camilo Pascual, Pedro Ramos and other Cuban major leaguers have been staying away from their native land this winter despite threats by Cuban sports commissioner Dr. Jose Llanuza to confiscate their property if they didn't return by Nov. 1.

In all, some 25 players — major and minor — have either remained in the United States or have gone directly to Puerto Rico or Venezuela to play winter ball.

Reggi Otero, 3rd base coach of the National League champion Cincinnati Reds, is managing in the Venezuelan League and Preston Gomez, who manages in the Los Angeles Dodgers' chain, is doing the same in Puerto Rico.

Dr. Llanuza announced recently all Cuban players must have their 1962 contracts signed to get a leave permit next spring. Those failing to do so would have to remain in Cuba for the summer.

Cuba is trying to kill off baseball. No professional games have been allowed this winter in the island. Only amateurs have a chance to play.

"Our boys will have to learn only soccer and chess in the future," said one of Dr. Llanuza's aides.

Players who reurned to Havana under the impression that the Cuban Winter League was going to hold its annual championship, are trying to find ways to leave and play in Venezuela, Puerto Rico or Nicaragua. So far only one, Jose Martinez, a Pittsburgh farm hand, has been able to make it. He is heading for Nicaragua.

A couple of weeks ago Dr. Llanuza announced the old race track at Oriental Park, Marianao, would close for good by Dec. 30. Dog tracks and the old fronton Jai Alai are in the same fix.

Other major leaguers remaining out of Cuba include Zoilo Versalles, Julio Becquer and Jose Valdivielso, Minnesota; Leo Cardenas, Orlando Pena and Cookie Rojas, Cincinnati; Mike Delahoz, Cleveland; Ed Bauta, St. Louis; Chico Fernandez, Detroit; Jesus MacFarlane, Pittsburgh; and Tony Gonzalez, Tony Taylor and Marcelino Lopez, Philadelphia.

ULTRA MODERN MEXICAN STADIUM

It's not done yet but 90,000,000 pesos say Mexico will have one of the world's finest soccer football structures when this 105,000-seat stadium is completed in 1963. The cost in American money is approximately $7,200,000. After its opening Mexico may put in a bid for the Olympics.

LAKERS' ELGIN BAYLOR GETS CALL FOR ACTIVE ARMY DUTY

San Francisco (AP)—Orders to report to active duty have been sent to Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers, a 6th Army spokesman said here Friday night.

Baylor, former All-America cager from Seattle University, is one of the outstanding stars of the National Basketball Association.

He owns the all time scoring record for Madison Square Garden, with 71 points against the New York Knickerbockers on Nov. 15, 1960.

The Army source at the Presidio of San Francisco said files were locked for the weekend and the exact date and unit to which Baylor was to report was unavailable.

Baylor, 26, spent 3 months in reserve summer training this year. He is married and has one child.

The spokesman said, however, that Baylor probably would have to report to active duty in about a month.

At Los Angeles, Lakers officials were not immediately available for comment.

Earlier general manager Louis R. Mohs commented: "We heard this rumor Thursday night. I asked Elgin at noon Friday and he said he has received no orders to report."

"Until I see the notice I can make no comment. Losing the greatest basketball player in the game is what the order would mean to me as the coach. I am stunned; so stunned, in fact, that I'm going to have to sit down."

Schaus declined to say what adjustment would have to be made for the Lakers, who are off and running into a fine start in quest of the NBA championship. The Lakers are 9-2 and leading the Western Division. Twice they have knocked off the St. Louis Hawks, perennial division champs.

The 6-5, 230-pound Baylor has teamed up with second year guard Jerry West to give the Lakers a terrific scoring punch. They are 2-3 in the individual scoring standings, being topped only by Wilt Chamberlain.

Baylor is generally recognized as one of the greatest all around players in the history of professional basketball.

In each of the 3 years Baylor has played in the NBA, he has had the top single game scoring effort. He scored 55 points in his rookie season against Detroit. The next year he scored 64 against Boston and he capped the 3 years by counting 71 points against the New York Knickerbockers.

In last season's playoff games Baylor scored at a 38.1 average, the highest in the history of the league. He is the first rookie ever named the most valuable player in the NBA's all-star game—in 1959, when he shared scoring honors with St. Louis' Bob Pettit.

Baylor was the only forward in the league to lead his team in assists during the season since Dolph Schayes of Syracuse did it in 1956-57.

Only 4 times in the history of the NBA has a player led his team in all 3 important categories for a season—in scoring, rebounding and assists, and Baylor has two of these 4 to his credit, Schayes and Maurice Stokes being the others.

MAPPING THE STRATEGY

UCLA Tips TCU With 28-7 Win

Los Angeles (AP) — Heavily-favored UCLA toyed around for the first quarter and then flattened Texas Christian 28-7 Friday night with a devastating ground and a surprise air attack.

Quarterback Sonny Gibbs started the scoring as he engineered TCU 60 yards in 14 plays, all but 3 on the ground, and fullback Tommy Crutcher scored from the one.

UCLA came back with two touchdowns in the second quarter and two more in the 3rd to even a series between the schools at two victories apiece.

The first Bruin touchdown came on a beautiful 63-yard pass from tailback Bobby Smith to Kermit Alexander. It was only the second touchdown that UCLA had scored through the air this year.

TCU .... 7 0 0 0— 7
UCLA .... 0 14 14 0—28
TCU—Crutcher 1 run (McAteer kick)
UCLA—Alexander 63 pass from Smith (Smith kick)
UCLA—Thompson 1 run (Smith kick)

Dodger Stadium Title Of New LA Ballpark

Los Angeles (AP) — The $16,000,000 stadium of the Los Angeles Dodgers, which is nearing completion in Chavez Ravine, will be known as Dodger Stadium.

The Dodgers announced Friday they had selected the name after carefully considering suggestions from many sources.

The Los Angeles Angels, rival American League club, will share the stadium, on a rental basis, but a spokesman said he does not know what the attitude of owner Gene Autry and general manager Fred Haney will be in acknowledging the park as Dodger Stadium.

FAIRFIELD RETAINS FIRST IN BEAUMONT

Beaumont, Tex. (AP)— Don Fairfield, a cool customer from Casey, Ill., clutched a two-stroke edge at the halfway point in the $20,000 Beaumont International golf tournament Friday with a steady one-under 70—and 36-hole aggregate of 136.

Troubled with par 3 holes all day, Fairfield finished strongly for a second sub-par effort to remain in front of Jay Hebert of Miami, Fla., and Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore., who chased him to a blistering 66 in Thursday's opening round.

Hebert and Rosburg missed opportunities to either tie Fairfield or gain at least one stroke with sub-standard play on one hole. Hebert reached No. 17 3 under par but hit a trap, overshot the green on his recovery and then missed a 6-foot putt for a double bogey 5.

Rosburg was equally dismayed on No. 6, a par 5 535-yard hole. He was trapped to the left of the green, barely reached the fringe with his blast, and then 3-putted for a 7.

Fairfield, a 32-year-old in his 6th pro tour, almost yielded to pressure on the back 9 with bogeys on 13 and 15, both par 3. But he birdied No. 16, parred the final pair and weathered the rush by Hebert and Rosburg.

"I wasn't putting nearly as sharply as Thursday, but I'm grateful to be in front," said Fairfield. "The overcast skies and the tree-lined fairways hurt me several times in cases of judgment. But I can't complain."

Three strokes off the pace are Beaumont amateur Ray Moore, and Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., and Gene Coghill of Penfield, N.Y. Moore posted the best 9-hole tour Friday with a 4-under 31 going out for his 70 and a 139 total.

Cooper was foiled in a bid to gain on the leaders with a double bogey 7 on No. 14 when he was trapped and then 3-putted. Until that experience, he was 5 under par.

The 140 bracket included such threats as Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., and the hometown favorite, Bert Weaver.

NYU Coach Dies

New York (AP) — Allen Towbin, 56, soccer coach at New York University, died early Friday after a week's illness. NYU resumed soccer as a varsity sport in 1959 and since that time Towbin's teams won 20 of 22 games.

By OLD PRO

It's bloody business this weekend in professional sport's bloodiest business — pro football.

Division titles, East and West, are on the slab in NFL frays at Chicago and New York.

And The Star's Old Pro, a bit queasy when he says so, figures the Bears and Giants will be the big winners.

The victims in this Sabbath blood-letting will be the Buzzards and the Butchers. Which, of course, is a switch.

The Buzzards (Philadelphia Eagles) and the Butchers (Green Bay Packers) have been feasting on the flesh of league most of the season.

The Eagles lead the Giants by one game in the East, the Packers are one up on 'da Beahs in the West.

Old Pro figures both divisions will be tied after what he sees as a sanguine Sabbath.

Op. calls 'em this way:

—Bears, who missed field goals and missed chance to buzz the Eagles last week, won't pull a repeat against the Packers.

—Giants, with 3 quarterbacks (two on field, one on bench) will stop the Eagles, who are hurting 'cause their quarterback Sonny Jurgensen has a sore toe.

TeeVee fans can watch the Bears-Packers on CBS, the Pittsburgh Steelers-Dallas Cowboys on NBC or the American League Boston Patriots-Houston Oilers on ABC.

Kelso, T. V. Lark Big International Favorites

. . . FOREIGN HORSES RATE BELOW U.S. PAIR

Laurel, Md. (AP) — The situation is right today for the biggest upset of 10 International horse races, with the United States duo of Kelso and T. V. Lark as the targets.

The pair rate as the most overwhelming favorites ever entered in the $100,000 International which has been noted for its surprises.

Practically none of the experts find any of the 6 foreign horses worthy on paper of posing much of a threat to Kelso and T. V. Lark.

Zabeg Rates

Accorded the most respect is Russia's Zabeg who finished a highly creditable 3rd last year in the 1½ mile grass race. He'll have a running mate in Irtysch.

France's Misti and Ireland's Sail Cheoil are being dismissed as too young and too little. Both are 3-year-olds and in addition Sail Cheoil is a filly.

The U.S. and Russian pairs are all 4-year-old males. The other representatives, Venezuela's Prenupcial and Denmark's Wonderboy are 5-year-olds.

Prenupcial may be the dark horse of the field. Six years ago, El Chama and Prendase came up from Venezuela and finished 1-2.

2-5 Odds

Kelso, who has been beaten only twice in 1960 and this year, is expected to be bet down to around 2-5. The previous lowest odds in the International were 11-10 on Ballymoss, the Irish horse who finished 3rd in 1958.

The only favorite to win the International was Bald Eagle who won for the second straight time for the U.S. last year. He was 17-10.

One of the problems facing American entries is the start from a tape barrier instead of the gate used in U.S. racing. Kelso also will be running for the first time on grass after 20 starts on dirt.

The field will line up with Prenupcial on the inside with Misti, Zabeg, T.V. Lark, Irtysch, Kelso, Sail Cheoil and Wonderboy spaced out in order.

Famous Jockeys

Two of America's most famous jockeys will be in the saddles. Eddie Arcaro will ride Kelso and Johnny Longden will be on T.V. Lark.

The International first prize of $70,000 would give either Kelso or T.V. Lark a big boost in the standings among the all-time money winners. T.V. Lark, with $758,479 already, would jump to 9th and Kelso, with $707,255, to 13th.

There will be no live telecast or radio broadcast of the race in the United States.

Dawkins Will Play In Top British Rugby Tilt

Oxford, England (AP)—Pete Dawkins, All-America at Army in 1958 changed his mind Friday and agreed to play Rugby for Oxford again.

The handsome 23-year-old from Royal Oak, Mich., who said last January he was retiring to concentrate on his studies, allowed himself to be picked for the university team to play Blackheath in London today.

"Please, Pete," pleaded Oxford captain John Willcox. "We badly need a strong, fast wingback like you."

So Dawkins put away his philosophy and economics books and got down to serious training.

Now he looks all set for his 3rd "blue"—the traditional award for representing Oxford in a major sport against Cambridge. The Oxford-Cambridge rugby match — England's equivalent to America's Army-Navy football game—is Dec. 12.

Two years ago Dawkins created a sensation by arriving in England, seeing rugby for the first time and winning a place on the Oxford team within a few weeks.

Dawkins is in the last of his 3 years of study at Oxford on a Rhodes scholarship. Next year he will return to the United States Army.

He won fame as a football star while at West Point. He has played for Oxford in the last two varsity rugby matches and also played twice for Oxford's ice hockey team.

Cozad Rolls Over Minden By 58-12

Lincoln Star Special

Cozad—Class B power Cozad made a tremendous finale showing as it overwhelmed Minden 58-12 in a high school football game here Friday afternoon.

The Haymakers took immediate command of the game racking up 20 points in the first 7 minutes to put the outcome beyond doubt.

Kelly Petersen and Ervin Burkholder scored two touchdowns apiece while 4 other Cozad players added touchdowns to the total.

Minden's scores came from the passing of Jerry Petersen. On two occasions he hit John Horan for touchdowns one for 17 yards and the other for 40.

Minden	6	6	6	0	—12
Cozad	20	12	19	7	—58

Minden: TDs, John Horan 2 (17, 40 passes from Jerry Petersen).

Cozad: TDs, Kelly Peterson 2 (5, run, 20 pass interception); Rob Crick (10, pass from Don Riedl); Brad DeWitt (25, fumble recovery and run); Bill Moorman (70, kick-off return); Don Riedl (11, run); Garland Allison (5, run). PATs, Riedl 3 (kicks); David Brooks (drop-kick).

Club's No Crop Cash Canceled

Omaha (AP)—The Blair Golf Club won't be paid for not growing crops.

The golf club last spring took out of cultivation 14 acres of land previously planted in sorghum by a leasee farmer.

The club then applied to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation agency for payment under the feed-grain program.

The application was approved and the club in April received an advance payment of $228.20 and was eligible for a second payment of a bit more than the advance.

The second payment will not be made and the club has been asked to refund the advance. John Lienemann, Scottsbluff, state ASC chairman, said.

The state committee acted under a general Washington ruling that any land devoted to non-agricultural purposes in 1961 is not eligible for the 1961 diverted acreage in the feed-grain program, he said.

MONKEY GIVES LIFE TO SCIENCE

Goliath Dies In Atlas Explosion

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—Goliath, a tiny squirrel monkey, died in the explosion of an Atlas missile Friday and added his name to the honor roll of animals who have given their lives to make space travel safer for man.

The failure will not affect an attempt to launch a chimpanzee into orbit next week in the last planned Project Mercury launching before an American astronaut is rocketed around the world.

The Atlas which malfunctioined Friday was an advanced E model. The earlier, more reliable D series Atlas is used for Project Mercury firings. Officials took a close look at data from Friday's flight before making a decision to go ahead with the chimp shot on schedule.

The missile shot off course and erupted 30 seconds after it was launched, spreading a raging fireball several thousand feet above the cape. The Air Force reported the range safety officer destroyed the missile when it became erratic.

No Official Explanation

There was no announcement on cause of the trouble. But informed sources said the main sustainer engine shut off inexplicably 15 seconds after launching and the two booster engines were unable to maintain course. The sustainer was to have burned for more than 4 minutes.

Goliath's capsule, a one foot by one foot cylinder, was located near the base of the 12-foot-tall cone, just above one of the Atlas' huge fuel tanks. Experts figured he probably died the instant of the explosion.

The Atlas was intended to fly a 5,000-mile course, hurling the nose cone into a south Atlantic target area where search planes and a recovery ship waited.

Omaha Prepsters Hold Career Day On NU Campus

A University of Nebraska "career day" will be held for a number of senior students of 7 Omaha area high schools on Saturday.

Dr. William E. Hall, professor of educational psychology and measurements, said an estimated 150 students from Bellevue, Omaha, Westside, Central, North, South, Tech and Benson would attend.

The college-orientation program, the only one of its kind held in the nation, gives high school students the opportunity to attend classes for one day exactly as they would if they were attending college.

The high school students will be divided into groups of 8 and will have a full-time college student assigned to attend the classes they elect to go to.

Three "college days" will be held this year at the university and will include one for students of small, outstate schools and another for larger schools.

The program is sponsored jointly by the university and the Nebraska Human Resources Research Foundation.

Kiewit Protests U.S. Tax Claims

Washington (AP)—Sixteen corporations, including one of the nation's biggest defense contractors, have appealed Internal Revenue Service claims against them for more than $20 million in additional income taxes.

Tax court records showed Friday that all of the firms have the same controller and all have their main offices in Omaha.

Heading the list is Peter Kiewit Sons' Co., which the government contends owes $13,627,477 in taxes for 1948-57. This is denied by the company.

Kiewit ranked 54th in a Defense Department listing of parent companies, which, with their subsidiaries, received the largest dollar volume of military prime contract awards during the 1960 calendar year. Kiewit's total for that period was $52.7 million.

Experts To Study Statistics

...ON JOBLESS

Washington (AP)— President Kennedy picked a 6-man panel of statistical experts Friday to see if the government's employment figures can be made more useful and reliable in combatting joblessness.

The action was taken at the suggestion of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who took note of criticism of the system. Writing Kennedy, he said:

"It is essential that the public have complete confidence in the statistics."

Kennedy's statement setting up the panel also spoke of the need for public confidence in the figures and said his objective is to enhance their quality.

Chairman of the study panel will be Robert Aaron Gordon, head of the economics department of the University of California at Berkeley.

No Time Limit

Kennedy set no time limit for the group to make its report. He asked the panel to consider suggestions and recommendations both from inside and outside government and to look into methods used by other nations.

Goldberg's letter to Kennedy noted that the system of compiling the statistics have been reappraised repeatedly. Improvements have been made from time to time, he said.

Saying he had received numerous suggestions for improving the statistics, Goldberg wrote Kennedy that recent high-level unemployment—sticking near 7% of the work force for months—has stimulated public interviewing procedures and methods used in getting figures, the definitions and concepts used in classifying people as employed or unemployed, and how the rate of joblessness in this country compares to that in other nations.

Engineered

A recent article in Readers Digest magazine charged that the employment figures are engineered and juggled in order to push the federal government into new spending programs.

Kennedy's statement defined the purpose of the statistics in these words:

"The statistics of employment and unemployment are of vital importance as measures of the economic health and well-being of the nation. They serve as guides to public policy in the development of measures designed to strengthen the economy, to improve programs to re-employ the unemployed, and to provide assistance to those who remain unemployed."

In addition to Gordon, Kennedy picked for the panel: Robert Dorfman, professor of economics, Harvard University; Martin R. Gainsbrugh, chief economist of the National Industrial Conference Board and president of the American Statistical Association, New York City; Albert E. Rees, University of Chicago economics professor; Stanley H. Ruttenberg, director of the AFL-CIO Research Department, Washington; and Frederick F. Stephan, professor of statistics, Princeton University.

HE WASN'T BOTHERED BY PICKETS

Guenther E. Mauk, an engineer at Yale and Towne Manufactcuring company, Philadelphia, walks undisturbed past a picket line at the plant Friday. Previously, others trying to enter the plant found themselves in picket line scuffles with several men knocked to the ground and others swapping punches. Mauk had good reason not to be bothered—he walked with his huge dog on a short leash.

Fate Of Molotov In Doubt

Disgraced Ex-Premier En Route To Moscow

Vienna (Saturday) (AP)—The disgraced Soviet former premier and foreign minister, V. M. Molotov, left Vienna Friday night by train for Moscow to face whatever fate the Kremlin may have in store for him.

Molotov

He was denounced at the recent Communist Party Congress in Moscow in a preliminary to loss of party membership.

The old Bolshevik had served here as Moscow's chief delegate to the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), an atoms-for-peace project. He served his first exile term in the Khrushchev era as ambassador to Mongolia at Ulan Bator.

Premier Khrushchev told reporters in Moscow Tuesday that Molotov's fate "is of no practical importance. We haven't decided yet," the premier added.

Wife Accompanies Him

Austrain authorities said Molotov and his wife, Paulina, left by train and passed the Austrian frontier into Czechoslovakia at Hohenau at 11 p.m. (local time). They were traveling on the Vienna-Moscow express through Poland.

Informants said Molotov boarded the train at the station through a side entrance and immediately drew the curtains in his sleeper compartment.

Ouster Recommended

Molotov was a leader of the antiparty group recommended for ouster from the party for opposing Khrushchev's policies in 1957.

Molotov drove to the Soviet Embassy Friday and stayed inside for several hours.

Russians here tried hard to keep Molotov's departure a secret. Reporters stationed in front of the Soviet Embassy did not see him leave. Apparently he was whisked through a side exit and sped to the railroad station.

Informants said initial action to oust the 71-year-old Molotov from the party was started by the Vienna Embassy staff, his basic communist party cell.

United Church Of Christ To Study Another Union

New York (AP) — A spokesman for the United Church of Christ said Friday the church has accepted an invitation to join in exploratory conversations toward union with the Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal and Methodist denominations.

The Rev. Dr. Ben M. Herbster, president of the United Church, said it would be represented by a delegation of 9 at a conference in Washington April 9-10.

The United Church, which links the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches, was the first union in the United States of Protestant churches with different types of church government and tradition.

Burglar Needs Ladder For Job

A burglar needed a ladder to break into Reifschneider Grocery early Friday.

The store, located at 1216 No. 10th is owned by Jacob Reifschneider of 944 New Hampshire. He said $31.15 was stolen, plus some cigars, cigarettes, and a pair of gloves.

The store, was entered through a window 8 feet above the ground.

Police said an attempted break-in at nearby Maser's Food Market occurred at the same time, but the arrival of police at Reifschneider's apparently discouraged the culprit.

Lemon Flavor Recipe Checks Rheumatic and Arthritis Pain

If you suffer the nagging minor pains of rheumatism, arthritis or neuritis, try this simple inexpensive home recipe that thousands are using. Get a can of RU-EX Compound, a 2 weeks supply, today. Mix it with a quart of water, flavor with the juice of 4 lemons. It's easy! No trouble at all and pleasant. You need only 3 tablespoonfuls 2 times a day. Often within 48 hours—sometimes overnight—splendid temporary results are obtained. If the pains do not quickly leave and if you do not feel better, return the empty can and RU-EX will cost you nothing. You are the sole judge as RU-EX is sold by your druggist on a money back guarantee. Over 7 million cans used.

Police Probe Theft Series, Auto Damage

Eight cases of thefts from cars and one of automobile property damage were reported Friday by police, who estimated total losses at $151.45.

Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon said the 9 incidents—7 of which occurred in two neighborhoods—were "more than the usual" number of such cases.

Four thefts happened in north-central Lincoln.

Thomas C. McKee of 821 No. 30th was the heaviest loser. Tools, a toolbox and a red wool blanket were stolen from his car. Stolen items were valued at $56.

Ashtray, Too

Thieves took an ashtray, camera, shoes, a flashlight, screwdriver and hammer from the car of Melvin W. Lemley of 2929 U. His loss was $23.

A car door mirror valued at $5 was taken from Mrs. W. G. Fifer of 2828 U, and Phillip F. Smith of 2845 Holdrege was set back $3 when his car's window was broken.

Three larcenies took place near 14th and D.

Groceries worth $8 were stolen from the car of Tom M. Davis of 1544 D, Apt. D-2; a flashlight and an old fishing hat were taken from the auto of Edward D. Rape of 1344 D, Apt. C-2, and Bennie Kermmoade of 1034 So. 14th lost a $1.50 flashlight to a thief.

Other larceny victims were Jay L. Hinman of 2578 Woods Blvd. and Eugene L'Heureux of Seward.

Police said a $31.95 battery was taken out of Hinman's car, and L'Heureux, whose car was parked on O between 16th and 17th, was missing two pair of trousers and two shirts. Value was $12.50.

Man Found Guilty On Two Charges Of Drunk Driving

Two drunken driving offenses on successive days cost Marvin L. McKee, 60, of 2000 So. 26th, $100 each in Municipal Court Friday.

McKee pleaded innocent to charges of driving while intoxicated on Oct. 20 and 21, but was found guilty after trial. He was ordered not to drive for 6 months.

McKee appealed both verdicts. Appeal bonds were set at $500.

Deer Dies

As of late Friday, the Nebraska Safety Patrol reported, one fatality had occurred on southeast Nebraska highways. The death was not human, however; a car struck and killed a deer near Beatrice.

Interstate Locational Talks Set

Informational meetings relative to the location of the Interstate Highway from Brady west to the Colorado border and the Cheyenne-Kimball county lines will be held Monday, Nov. 20, in North Platte and Ogallala, J. R. McBride of Minden, chairman of the Nebraska Highway Commission, announced Friday.

The North Platte meeting will be at 9 a.m. (central standard time) and the Ogalala session at 2:30 p.m. (mountain standard time).

McBride said the State Highway Department has two locations now under study; one to run north of North Platte and Ogallala and another to run south of the two cities.

The results of Highway Department studies will be presented at the public meetings, including relative costs, service, use benefits and other pertinent information.

McBride said the Highway Department will make its recommendation to the commission at a meeting in December.

He said Dec. 15 has been set tentatively as the date for official hearings on the Interstate Highway route.

Those meetings too, are planned for North Platte and Ogallala.

Stocks Rally In Final Hour

New York (AP) — The stock market reaffirmed its bullish intentions late Friday after nearly two sessions of profit-taking and "consolidation" of the big advance earlier this week.

After milling inconclusively most of the day, stocks rallied in the last hour, pushing some market barometers to record highs and putting gainers well ahead of losers in the final count.

Volume was a substantial 4.18 million shares compared with 4.68 million Thursday—the lowest this week; but it was the highest volume week in a long time.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.55 to 724.83, not far below its record high of 726.53 reached Sept. 7.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .90 to a record 265.10 with industrials up 1.70 and utilities up .90 both to new highs for the year and rails down .80.

Of 1,315 issues traded, 639 advanced and 453 declined. New highs for the year totaled 85 and new lows 5.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks advanced, 4 declined and 2 were unchanged.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Volume of 1.86 million shares was about the same as Thursday's.

Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds were mostly lower.

Volume totaled $6.97 million par value compared with $8.06 million Thursday.

Grain Market Gains Some

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market mustered a rallying tendency in late dealings Friday and finished with some small to moderate gains on the Board of Trade.

Both gains and losses generally were small, reflecting a fairly evenly mixed trade in the light dealings. However, rye continued to attract speculative interest and moved up major fractions or more. In soybeans, the August contract ran well ahead of the others with a gain of a cent on limited buying which appeared to be the long term investment type.

Wheat closed unchanged to ½ cent a bushel higher, December $2.03¼; corn ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, December $1.09⅜-¼; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 67 cents; rye ¾-1 cent higher, December $1.42¼-42; soybeans ¼ lower to 1 cent higher, November $2.42⅝-½.

Cattle: Salable 800; calves 850.
Sheep: Salable 800.

CHICAGO

Marketings of butcher hogs were heavy again Friday and prices were weak to 50 cents a hundredweight lower for the largest Friday supply since May. The extreme setback was on weights over 230 lbs. but others were mostly 25 to 35 cents lower.

Shippers were good buyers, taking almost all the 7,000 head offered at $16.65-17 for 190-220 lb. mixed No. 1 and 2 grades. A few strictly No. 1s averaging 212 lbs. brought the $17.15 top.

Mixed 1-3 grades up to 240 lbs. went at $16.25-16.75 and heavier weights at $16-16.25. Sows topped at $15.

No sales of slaughter steers, heifers or vealers were reported. The few utility grade bulls moved at $18-20.

Mixed good and prime wooled slaughter lambs brought $16.75-17 on a steady sheep market. The good and choice were $15-16.

Hogs: 7,000; 190-230 lbs. weak to 35 lower, closing mostly 25-35 lower; over 230 lbs. 25 to mostly 50 lower; 40 head No. 1 212 lbs. 17.15; mixed No. 1-2 190-220 lbs. 16.65-17.00; late mostly 16.65-16.75; around 300 head at 17.00 early; mixed No. 1-3 190-240 lbs. 16.25-16.75, mostly 16.25-16.50 late; mixed No. 1-3 and 2-3 220-275 lbs. 16.00-16.25.

Cattle: 200, calves 300; cows fully steady; not enough other slaughter classes on sale to test prices; vealers practically absent; bulk calf supply stock steers and heifers direct to feeder dealers; cutter and utility cows 12.75-15.00; mostly 14.50 down; canner cows largely 11.00-12.50.

Sheep: 300; slaughter lambs steady; several lots mixed good and prime 85-100 lb. wooled native slaughter lambs 16.75-17.00; mixed good and choice 15.00-16.00.

SIOUX CITY

Hogs: 6,200; barrows and gilts steady to 25 lower; sows mostly steady; No. 1 and 2 and No. 1, 2 and 3 200-240 lbs. 16.10-16.25; No. 1, 2 and 3 190-240 lbs. 15.75-16.00; 240-270 lbs. 15.25-15.75; sows 300-550 lbs. 13.50-15.25.
Cattle: 1,700; calves 700.
Sheep: 600.

Hearing Scheduled Nov. 29 On Complaint Against Sorrell

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday set Nov. 29 as the date for a formal hearing on a complaint against Nebraska Liquor Commission Chairman Frank Sorrell of Syracuse.

Sorrell, a real estate agent and auctioneer, has been charged with being employed to sell property for persons engaged in the liquor business in violation of state law.

Morrison announced his decision to the press by releasing a letter he had written Sorrell. The letter was released shortly after Sorrell and his attorney, Joe Ginsburg of Lincoln, were in the Governor's Office.

Two Cases

The letter was formal notice to Sorrell of the hearing "for you to show cause why you should not be removed from office" and added:

"The specific charge against you is that you were employed by persons engaged in the liquor business in violation of Section 53-111, R.R.S., 1943, to-wit, Helen Giittinger (of Talmage) and Lloyd Copenhaver (of Syracuse), while holding the office of State Liquor Commissioner."

The letter marked the first publication that more than one licensee was involved. Only the Syracuse property of Copenhaver had been publicized previously.

Norman Otto, administrative assistant to the governor, said the property of Mrs. Giittinger was advertised for sale in the Nebraska City News Press, April 27, 1961.

Neither Sorrell, nor Ginsburg, would comment upon the matter.

Gov. Morrison Leaving For German Trip

Gov. Frank Morrison is due to land in Frankfurt shortly after noon Sunday for two weeks in Germany as guest of the West German government.

Nebraska's chief executive is scheduled to meet with top officials of the West German government and may even get a chance to take a look behind the barricades in East Berlin.

The governor got the invitation primarily for his efforts promoting an exchange program which saw several dozen West German youths visit this state and live with Nebraska families.

Morrison said he is particularly interested in finding out more about the proposed European Common Market, particularly the ramifications it might have on the Nebraska economy.

He has noted that it might cut back a market for Nebraska wheat.

Effect Good

But the governor has said he believes the overall effect will be good for the state since it will strengthen the economy of Western Europe and provide more outlets for American products and foodstuffs.

Morrison also wants to see about expanding the exchange program, possibly having Nebraska youths spend some time in Germany.

German officials have promised to take him to Berlin and into the Eastern sector, provided it is considered safe at the time.

The governor leaves Omaha Saturday afternoon for Chicago where he will board a plane shortly after 8 p.m. for the non-stop flight.

It will be Morrison's first time in Europe.

Miller Reinstated In Nebraska Bar

The State Supreme Court Friday reinstated Clarence M. Miller of Oshkosh as a member of the Nebraska bar.

Miller received a one year suspension Sept. 23, 1960, after his conviction for failure to file an income tax return.

Although the suspension had expired, he had to wait for the court to sustain his reinstatement application.

Rites At Ithaca For Donald Otto

Lincoln Star Special

Wahoo — The funeral of Donald Otto, 46, of Wahoo, who died Thursday after his truck upset on him, will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Zion Lutheran Church in Ithaca.

Mr. Otto died in a Fremont hospital approximately 3 hours after the truck he was driving left U.S. 30 two miles west of Arlington, upset and pinned him under it.

His survivors include 3 daughters, Voncele, 10, Elenora, 8, and Valloria, 6; parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Otto of Wahoo; sisters, Mrs. Raymond Wiese of Wahoo and Mrs. Virginia Nelson of Malmo, and brother, Harold of Ashland.

Directors Named By Kiwanis Club

The downtown Lincoln Kiwanis Club Friday named 4 members to the board of directors for 3-year-terms beginning at the first of the year.

They are Verdon H. Petersen, Tyler Ryan, Howard Gerstenberger and William Mann.

Retiring directors are Ralph Harlan, Earl Ballentine, Dale Graul and Paul Reis.

Motor Carriers Re-Elect Omahan

Omaha (AP) — Carl Schweitzer of Omaha was elected president of the Nebraska Motor Carriers Association Friday at the group's 29th annual convention.

Other officers named included: Alvin Brown of Kearney, executive vice president; Larry Johns of Lincoln, treasurer; Paul Halpine of Lincoln, executive secretary, and State Sen. Jack Romans of Ord, Nebraska vice president to the American Trucking Association. Johns, Halpine and Romans were re-elected.

Standards Committee Will Meet Today

The second public meeting of the Standards and Specifications Committee will be held early Tuesday afternoon because of the Monday observance of Veterans Day, State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson said.

The committee began last week to regularly schedule its meetings in order that any one who has a grievance to voice against the State Purchasing Department and its procedures may do so.

The board will also use the meetings to further the work on the manual of standards and specifications it is preparing for Gov. Morrison.

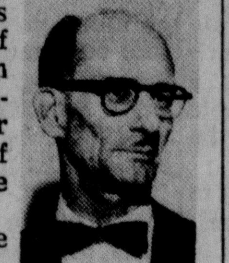
Woods Appointed Welfare Director

Gov. Frank Morrison Friday named Frank Woods to head the Department of Public Welfare when it becomes operational Jan. 1.



Woods

Woods, 56, has served as director of the Division of Public Welfare under the Board of Control since 1956.

When the 1961 Legislature approved the laws creating the two new departments of Public Welfare and Public Institutions to replace the Board of Control system, Woods applied for the post of director.

His appointment will mean an increase in salary from his present $8,400 annual pay to the $11,000 authorized for the new director.

"The post is new, but Woods is familiar with Nebraska and Nebraska problems," Morrison said in announcing the appointment.

"It would take a new man some considerable time to become acquainted with both personnel and problems of the Nebraska welfare program," the governor said.

A native of Seward, Woods graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1932 and took graduate study in social work at both Missouri University and the University of Washington.

He became associated with the Nebraska Division of Welfare in 1951, and was named director in 1956.

Woods is a widower and has one son, Richard, 19, a student at the University of Nebraska.

$162,984 Damage Suit Filed By Wagner Mills

Schuyler (UPI) — One of the largest damage suits ever sought in Colfax County has been filed in District Court.

Wagner Mills, filed a $162,984.34 damage suit against Bloom Builders, Inc., and Bloom Construction Co., both of Oskaloosa, Iowa.

The petition claims that 14 buildings constructed by the Bloom firms for Wagner Mills have partially or totally collapsed since their construction in 1958 and 1959.

The buildings were erected to store a total of 4,555,000 bushels of grain.

Honor Ag Group Elects Ottoson

Dr. Howard Ottoson, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Nebraska, Friday was elected president of the Nebraska Chapter of Gamma Delta, honorary agriculture society.

He succeeds Prof. R. J. Graham, associate chairman, department of information.

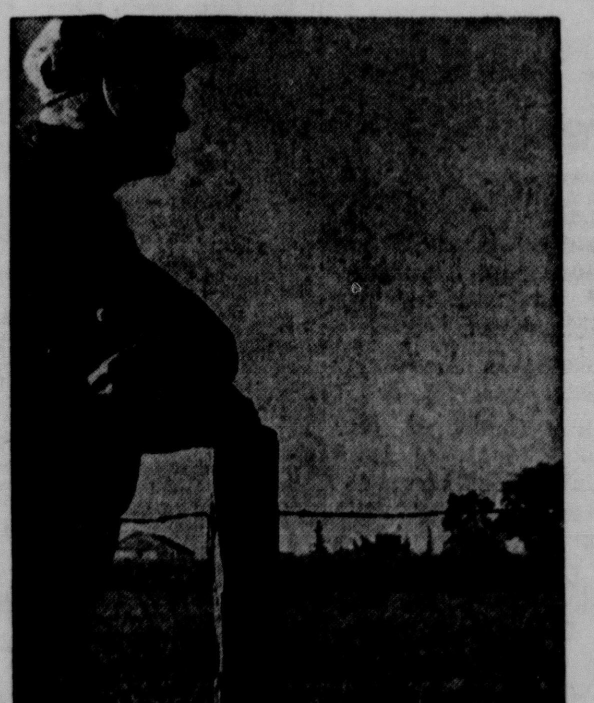
Why so many farmers and ranchers plant money in U.S. Savings Bonds



Ever since the Savings Bond Program began, America's farmers and ranchers have been among its best customers. In fact ⅓ of all cash reserves owned by these folks is invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Bonds for Business. Bonds owned by the millions of people who run our farms work hard. They replace machinery. Pay for new land. Provide insurance against the risks of farming. They get personal assignments, too, like replacing the old homestead and sending the kids to college.

Why they keep U.S. Bonds "down on the farm." U.S. Savings Bonds are a "crop that never fails," guaranteed by the U.S. Government to grow. $18.75 becomes $25 in 7 years, 9 months. In 10 more years, it becomes $36.25. They can be cashed in anytime, with interest. And if they're lost or destroyed, the Treasury Department replaces them free.

Every U.S. Bond you buy is an investment in Peace. What better way to help your government help you enjoy the things you're saving for?

Why America's Prominent Farm Groups Support The Savings Bond Program

James G. Patton, President, National Farmers Union, says: "Savings Bonds are an excellent means of providing for a family's security, and will continue to be a part of our efforts toward a better agriculture and a stronger nation."

Chas. B. Shuman, President, American Farm Bureau Federation, says: "Farmers have always been strong supporters of The Savings Bond Program. Their current investment of $5 billion is a tribute both to their thrift habits and to Bonds."

Herschel D. Newsom, Master, The National Grange, says: "Savings Bonds are an investment in America. Farmers—like all Americans—buy them, assured that they are making an indestructible investment."

You save more than money with

Morrison OKs $41,250 For Civil Defense Work

...Money To Come From Special Emergency Fund

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Friday he has authorized the Military Department to draw $41,250 from a special emergency fund to bolster the state's civil defense program.

The funds will be used to hire 10 additional personnel, purchase vehicles, equipment, office supplies, and pay travel expenses for an expanded program aimed at helping local communities and counties prepare civil defense plans.

"Due to the critical world situation, the number of prime targets in Nebraska, and the demand from local communities for help our state agency cannot now provide, I believe it is imperative to make use of these available funds," Morrison said.

The governor said he had conferred with Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud, chairman of the Government and Military Affairs Committee, about the matter and that Bowen had urged the additional money be utilized to help communities prepare themselves in the present emergency.

Morrison also said that in keeping with his policy of advising the Legislature's Budget Committee on fiscal matters associated with administrative programs, he had advised Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, budget chairman, of his plans to use the money.

Maj. Gen. Lyle Welch, director of the state's civil defense program, told The Star the state agency is doing everything it can to meet the emergency "but we do not have enough hands."

"It is our responsibility to assist cities and counties in developng disaster plans which meet the approval of state and federal programs, but it has been a herculean task for a minute force," Welch said.

Failure of local communities to prepare plans ahead of the present emergency was scored by Welch, who said the "general lethargy and complacency of so many city and county officials overwhelms me."

Only 12 Have Plans

Only 12 of the state's 93 counties have active civil defense plans, he said.

Under a new federal order communities cannot participate in federal matching funds for personnel and administration, or the surplus property program, unless they have federally approved plans by January 31, 1962.

In addition to the need for more personnel to expedite local programs, extra help is needed to inform Nebraskans about fallout shelter plans, and to inspect the 16 200-bed mobile hospital units located over the state.

The present Civil Defense staff of 10 persons will be doubled under the expanded program.

New personnel will include an information officer, women's activities coordinator, a resources management officer, shelter coordinator, and 6 clerical staff.

Federal Funds Matched

Cost of the expansion for 18 months beginning January 1 is $76,500, of which $35,250 will come from federal matching funds.

Federal funds can be matched on a 50-50 basis, except for vehicle replacement which must be borne by the state alone.

The breakdown for expenditures shows: vehicles, $6,000; equipment, $6,000; travel expenses, $7,000; office supplies and operation, $2,500, and personnel, $35,000.

A total of $78,865 is in the Military Department's emergency fund from which the state's share of the cost will come.

Ten High Schools Receive Yearbook, Paper Awards

Ten Nebraska high schools won outstanding newspaper and yearbook awards at the 30th annual Nebraska High School Press Association convention Friday evening.

Sprague-Martell Central High School was the first-place winner in the mimeographed newspaper contest, sponsored by the Omaha World-Herald. Herb Armbrust, youth activities director of the Omaha paper, presented the plaque at the banquet in the Nebraska Union.

Printed newspaper awards went to Omaha North High School in Division 1 and McCook High School in Division 2. Division 1 includes towns with a 1950 census of 7,500 or more population. All other towns are in Division 2.

The KMTV Yearbook Trophy presented by Bob Fuller, chief KMTV newscaster, was awarded to Lincoln Southeast High School. Honorable mention was given to Kearney High School.

Aggie Wins

The Curtis Aggie School of Agriculture was winner of the Scottsbluff Star-Herald Yearbook Award presented by L. A. Hamsa of Fremont, NHSPA president.

Alliance High School and McCook High School were awarded honorable mentions.

B. R. Minteer of Scottsbluff, NHSPA vice president, presented the Hastings Tribune Yearbook Award to Hooper High School. Honorable mentions went to Wahoo Catholic High School and Waverly High School.

Presentation of the Ridle Memorial Pin was made to Hamsa, out-going NHSPA president, by H. M. Crilly of the Superior Express.

Banik Speaks

Dr. Allen E. Banik, a Kearney optometrist, spoke at the banquet Friday evening on his visit to Hunza, a tiny country in the Himalayas west of Pakistan. The Hunzakuts, he said, have developed exercises that keep them in perfect health, sometimes to the age of 120.

Dr. Banik is co-author of a book on the Hunzakuts, called "Hunza Land."

Dr. Ottoson Is New President Of Ag Honor Society

Dr. Howard W. Ottoson, chairman of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Nebraska, Friday was elected president of the Nebraska chapter of Gamma Sigma Delta, honor society of agriculture.

Outgoing president is Professor Ralston J. Graham, associate chairman of the department of information.

Other officers elected include: Dr. John Weihing, extension plant pathologist, vice president; Howard L. Wiegers, assistant professor of poultry, secretary; Dr. William Kehr, professor of agronomy and U.S. Dept. of Agriculture plant scientist, treasurer.

Elected to the award of merit committee were Dr. Mogens Plum, professor of dairy, and Dr. William B. Allington, chairman of the department of plant pathology.

Judge Overrules Vehicle Homicide New Trial Motion

Lancaster District Court Judge Paul White overruled a motion for a new trial filed by a Garland man convicted of a motor vehicle homicide charge.

James L. Bjerrum, 25, had been convicted by a Lancaster District Court jury in connection with a March 2 accident resulting in the death of Doyle Prucha of Crete.

Judge White deferred sentencing pending an investigation by the adult probation office.

Sewer Easement Award $6,500

A Lancaster District Court jury Friday awarded $6,500 in damages to Merril Reller for a right-of-way easement for the Havelock interceptor sewer.

The judgment against the City of Lincoln involved Reller property located north of Cornhusker Highway.

County Court appraisers had set damages at $1,000, but Reller appealed to District Court, seeking $35,000.

B. R. Minteer Is President

B. R. Minteer of Scottsbluff was elected president of the Nebraska High School Press Association, an organization of advisors to high school publications.

He succeeds L. A. Hamsa of Fremont.

Other newly elected officers, announced at the Association's annual banquet at the University of Nebraska Friday evening, are:

Robert Longwell of Gothenburg, vice president; Miss Eleanore Limes, Columbus, secretary; and Mrs. Ellen Pearey, Omaha North, treasurer.

Hamsa reported that more than 75 of the 90 member schools are represented at this year's two-day convention at the university's school of journalism.
